Canada Barters Surplus Meat With U.K.

GAS SLASHED 35 PER CENT FOR AIRCRAFT

Howe Announces Drastic Measure

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP).—All deliveries of aviation gasoline in Canada to users have been slashed by 35 per cent because of the oil-industry strike in the United States, Trade Minister Howe announced today.

Mr. Howe told the Commons deliveries are being cut—effective immediately—to 65 per cent of those in April.

He said that, with this conservation measure, Canada's aviation industry should be able to carry on "indefinitely" with curtailed schedules of service.

ALL GRADES

Under an order-in-council passed today, Mr. Howe disclosed, all grades of aviation gasoline have been declared "essential" and subject to control under the Defence Production Act.

However, it was not expected at this time that supplies of other petroleum products for Canadian consumers would be seriously affected.

Mr. Howe said the petroleum division of the defense production department will be prepared to consider relation of the 65-per-cent delivery rule in specific cases of extreme hardship.

Meanwhile, Mr. Howe said, aircraft companies have been asked to eliminate all non-essential flights. Trans-Canada Air Lines schedules were being curtailed, and Mr. Howe said about 16 flights were being eliminated today.

The curtailment measure is in line with action in the United States, where civilian flying has been cut 30 per cent as the result of the strike. Canada gets most of its high-octane aviation fuel from the U.S.

C.P.A. CUTS DOWN

Canadian Pacific Airlines have announced an immediate reduction in domestic service.

Effective today, all second sections of regular flights will be discontinued. These constitute about 30 per cent of total traffic at this season.

In event further cuts become necessary, these will be made on routes where good alternate transportation is available, C.P.A. officials said.

Washington High School Students Here on Tour of Northwest

Senior class of Onalaska High School, Onalaska, Wash., 43 strong, arrived in city today in own bus on three-day tour of Olympic Peninsula and Victoria area. Picture was taken in Beacon Hill Park. Students also visited Butchart's Gardens, Saanich Observatory, Parliament Buildings, and Museum. They will leave Saturday. Four students, who have passed driving, first-aid tests, handle bus. LIBERALS HIT TORY CHARGE BOSS TO QUIT

'Bitterness' Seen In Statement

Victoria Liberals today scoffed at reports the Premier Byron Johnson intends to resign after the June 12 election.

Alan J. McDonell, Progressive Conservative candidate in Vancouver Centre, told a Grand Forks meeting the Premier is just "a nominal figurehead who is going to stay around until the vote is known and then he will get out."

In New Westminster Bill Rea, election manager for the Premier, said today Premier Johnson "has no intention of resigning after the election."

"The premier has the full support of the party members and Liberal candidates," said Mr. Rea in commenting on the Grand Forks report.

Mrs. J. G. Gates, president of the B.C. Liberal Association, termed the statement "nonsense."

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Liberal candidate in the city, said she has never heard of it.

'DOWNRIGHT CHEEK'

Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, also a Liberal candidate here, said Mr. McDonell's assertion was "downright cheek."

"I know the Premier will not quit, no matter what might happen in the election," he said.

"That chap, McDonell, is one of the most bitter members of the Conservative party, and he is showing his bitterness here."

G. A. A. Hebden, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, and a vice-president of the B.C. body, said:

"As far as I know it's groundless."

Other Liberals termed Mr. McDonell's statement "wishful thinking," a "red-herring," "ridiculous," and "unheard of."

'REPUDIATED'

McDonell, at Grand Forks, said Johnson will resign "no matter what the result of the June 12 election is."

He claimed the premier has not the support of more than seven Liberals in the Legislature.

Almost all the Liberals in the last Legislature, he said, had repudiated the premier and owed their allegiance to "another" in the Liberal party.

McDonell, who flew to Grand Forks late Thursday as a replacement for his party leader Herbert Anscomb, noted that the province intends to spend $182,000,000 next year.

"That's certainly big business, and for business of that sort we need a first-class general manager," he said.

"We've got a general manager now in the person of Premier Johnson. But what kind of a manager is he? He's quarreling with his party, quarreling with his Attorney-General and there is no one with him. There is only one thing for him to do and that's resign."

Premier Johnson spoke at a Liberal rally in Chilliwack Thursday night.

Three-Way Deal With N.Z. Will Counter U.S. Embargo

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP)—The United Kingdom has agreed to accept Canadian surplus meat on a barter basis, it was learned today.

The swap involves New Zealand exports.

Canada will ship surplus meat to Britain. Britain will hand over to Canada an equal amount of meat purchased from New Zeland.

Canada will sell the New Zealand meat in the United States market.

An announcement on this unique three-way swap will be made shortly in Ottawa, London and Auckland.

The tripartite agreement has been reached in an attempt to overcome the American embargo on Canadian livestock and meats imposed by the U.S. as a result of the foot-and-mouth disease outbreak in south Saskatchewan.

The swap will include both beef and pork. Because of a lack of dollars, Britain has obtained no beef from Canada since 1948 and no pork since 1950.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner gave a hint of the agreement Thursday when he told the Commons that arrangements which he thinks will "turn out to be satisfactory" were being made for the disposal of meat surpluses in Canada.

The agreement involves no exchange of dollars for sterling. Canada simply will exchange Canadian meat for New Zealand meat with Britain and sell this to the U.S.

The price she will get for her meat will, of course, depend on the price the U.S. is willing to pay for imports.

Juin to Head Newly Created European Six-Country Force

Draft of Treaty Initialled by Envoys; Pitfalls Still Ahead

PARIS, May 9 (AP).—Six west European countries tonight initialled the draft of a treaty to create a one-uniform European army.

The army of about 1,300,000 men will be integrated into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It will be headed by Marshal Alfonse Juin of France in his role as commander of the ground forces of N.A.T.O.'s central European sector.

Today's ceremony, which took place in the French Foreign Office, capped 15 months of work by experts who have been ironing out the complex details of pooling the military resources of the six countries into a common European defense community.

The draft will be handed to the foreign ministers of the six member countries — France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — for final study. It is expected to be signed later this month. After that it still faces the hurdle of parliamentary approval in each country.

OBSTACLES SEEN

High hurdles still will face the plan after that, before the projected one-uniform army of some 40 divisions can take the field under the military commander for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. These include:

1. Ratification by parliaments of the six nations. Much trouble is expected in West Germany, which wants to get more concessions for its troops, and in France, where many oppose putting any Germans in uniform.

2. Signing and ratification of the peace contract between West Germany and Britain, the United States and France. Recent German demands for more concessions have indicated this may be a long way off. Until the peace contract is ratified, the army treaty under its own terms can not take effect.

Military experts anticipate a year of training before German troops can make any effective contribution to western defense. Since the E.D.C. treaty provides these Germans can not be recruited and armed until the defense community itself is in operation—fully ratified and running—even optimistic estimates do not see the international army as a going concern before mid-1954.

Van Fleet Ready to Use Force at Koje

SEOUL, Korea, May 9 (AP).—Gen. James van Fleet said tonight he will use force if necessary to rescue Brig.-Gen. Francis Dodd from Communist prisoners of war who snatched the general at Koje Island prison camp.

Van Fleet said he would not give in to the Reds' "unreasonable" demands for special privileges before they release the prison-camp commander.

The United States Eighth Army commander made his statement after a flying trip to rebellious Koje, off the southern tip of Korea.

He was under orders from Gen. Matthew Ridgway, supreme Allied comander, "to use force if necessary" to free Dodd without delay.

DEMANDS GIVEN

Dodd, 52, has been a prisoner since Wednesday, when North Korean captives seized him at the gates of a compound.

Ridgway said the Communists were demanding "phones, permission to organize, writing paper and some other things" before they would release Dodd.

The army released only meagre details of the new rebellion at Koje and kept newspaper men from going there.

Van Fleet said "we have not yet been able to determine why the guards didn't rush in for a rescue attempt."

JAPANESE POLICE GET WIDE POWERS

TOKYO, May 9 (AP)—Kyodo News Agency reported today Japanese civil police have tentative jurisdiction over all United Nations military personnel in Japan — except Americans — until an agreement is worked out.

A Kyodo dispatch from Kure said police of that city were so notified by the Japanese attorney-general's office.

A Foreign Office source said provisions for a U.N. agreement covering all foreign troops in Japan, other than American garrison forces now is being drafted. It would cover Canadian, British, French, Filipino or any other U.N. troops who may be in Japan for training or recreation.

Decorated for Korea Service

OTTAWA, May 9. — Defence Minister Brooke Claxton today announced that Her Majesty the Queen has been pleased to approve awards to five officers and men of the Royal Canadian Navy for their services in the Korean war theatre.

They are: Commander Edward T. G. Madgwick, C.D., R.C.N., of Ottawa, to receive the Distinguished Service Cross.

Petty Officer Edward H. Randall, R.C.N., of Halifax and Yarmouth, N.S., to receive the British Empire Medal.

Mentioned in Dispatches are: Commander A. B. F. Fraser-Harris, D.S.C. and Bar, C.D., R.C.N., of Halifax; Chief Petty Officer Frederick C. Emmerson, R.C.N., of Dartmouth, N.S., and Saint John, N.B., and Chief Petty Officer Reginald Winter, C.D., R.C.N., of Winnipeg, Victoria and Dartmouth, N.S.

Commander Madgwick commanded H.M.C.S. Huron during her tour of operations in the Far East in 1951. Following his return to Halifax last September he came ashore to take up his present appointment at Naval Headquarters as director of manning and personnel statistics.

Reds Planning 350,000 Army

BERLIN, May 9 (AP).—East German government circles reported today their Communist regime is speeding plans to raise an army of more than 350,000 men. Already, informants said, it is calling back fully-trained veterans of the People's Police—the army nucleus—to swell the present 60,000-man ranks to 150,000.

The tempo of the Soviet-zone armament quickened at once after high East German officials said they will need to defend East Germany from a threat of civil war they see in the western plan to arm West German forces for the proposed European Army.

FIVE STEPS

Among other steps reported under way were:

1. Drafting of a "defense law" to establish a volunteer army and authorize conscription of all able-bodied men for military training.

2. A recruiting campaign directed mainly at the Communist free German youth and security guards at plants and factories.

3. A Soviet plan to expand the East German cabinet by adding a defense minister, with speculation the post may go to Wilhelm Zaisser, Red veteran of Spanish Civil War, or former Gen. Friedrich Von Paulus, captured with his German army at Stalingrad.

4. Planning for a 25-division army with each division containing about 15,000 men armed with artillery, tanks and anti-tank guns.

5. Full development of the Soviet zone into a tightly-communized state like Hungary or Czechoslovakia.

U.S. OIL STRIKE SETTLEMENT UNSEEN

Scarcity of High-Octane Gas Hits Major Airlines; Auto Fuel Scarce in Areas

DENVER, May 9 (AP).—Scarcity of high-octane aviation gasoline today ranked as the most serious effect of the country-wide oil strike which began nine days ago.

There seemed little chance for immediate settlement. A possibility the strike may be extended was voiced in Denver by O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers International Union (C.I.O.).

The major hope seems to be a meeting May 13 between the Wage Stabilization Board and representatives of 22 striking A.F.L., C.I.O. and independent union and management of the refineries and pipelines.

The pinch on aviation fuel has been widely felt. Air France announced flights will be cut by 50 per cent unless the quota for trans-Atlantic carriers is increased. The line has 20 flights weekly. Trans-Canada Air Lines reduced schedules of about 40 daily flights between Canada and New York, Boston, Cleveland, Chicago and Seattle.

A 30 per cent slash in aviation gasoline has been ordered by the government. The United States air force has reduced training flight hours. Military and commercial lines report shortages are affecting operations overseas and in the territories.

HOME OILS RELEASED

Delivery of aviation gasoline to re-sellers or consumers with a three-day supply on hand was forbidden by the U.S. government. The order was effective today.

On the bright side, the Petroleum Administration for Defence suspended inventory limitations on stocks of home heating, diesel and residual fuel oil today in all of 26 states and part of four others.

Seek Driver In Hit-Run Fatality

Every police force on Vancouver Island has been alerted to search for a hit-run driver who struck and killed a 70-year-old Cowichan Indian about midnight Thursday near Koksilah.

R.C.M.P. said Edward August was found lying in a pool of blood on the new Island Highway suffering a mangled right leg and internal injuries.

He was pronounced dead at King's Daughters' Hospital in Duncan on arrival.

The elderly man was walking near his home when believed struck by a car.

Police said the hit-run vehicle may have a dented fender and traces of blood on it.

Intensive investigation is being carried out.

Pact Signed

TOKYO, May 9 (Reuters).—Canada, the United States and Japan today signed a tripartite fisheries agreement binding Japan not to fish in certain waters off the northwest coast of North America.

The agreement, negotiated last year, recognizes the freedom of the high seas but all parties agree to co-operate in conservation measures.

It is under the latter agreement that Japan will not fish the northwest coast, where Canada and the U.S. are applying limitations for conservation purposes.

'PETTICOAT' COUNCIL WINS

BISHOP'S ITCHINGTON, Warwickshire, Eng., May 9 (Reuters).—Man's attempt to overthrow the "petticoat government" of this picturesque village has flopped.

The 900 villagers have re-elected the six housewives who, with one lone male, have ruled the parish council for three years.

The election took place this week along with country-wide voting for local councillors. Most districts are voting on a Labor-or-Tory basis, but here it was a straight Adam-and-Eve fight.

C.P.R. May Augment Nanaimo-Vancouver Run

Huge 'Utility' Ship for Transportation Of Freight, Passengers in Planning Stage

A big "utility" ship carrying boxcars, trucks and passengers will likely be added to the Nanaimo-Vancouver run by Canadian Pacific Coast Service within three years.

The plan, which has been under discussion here and in Montreal for some time, calls for a vessel along the lines of those used in the European cross-channel trade.

C.P.R. senior vice-president N. R. Crump said in Vancouver Thursday "we are definitely thinking about it."

It is known that the steady growth of coastwise traffic has brought possibility of such a ship well up in C.P.R. planning, and it is regarded as a logical step to follow the car-and-truck barge service now operating.

A ship of the cross-channel type could make three trips daily, and carry trucks, boxcars, automobiles and passengers.

According to Mr. Crump, inauguration of the new service would mean construction of additional piers at Nanaimo to handle boxcars.

"With a 14-foot tide that will present some fine engineering problems," Mr. Crump said.

He said C. D. MacIntosh, engineer who designed the new Nanaimo wharf, has just returned from Europe after studying how similar problems are met there.

He said the company has "no present plans" for trans-Pacific passenger service.

"We will have to wait and see how our trans-Pacific freight service works out," said Mr. Crump. "Conditions in the Orient are exceedingly unsettled."

CECIL SOLLY GIVES ADVICE TO GARDENERS IN TIMES MAGAZINE

Dean of the experts on gardening, Cecil Solly, has timely advice for gardeners who from now to the long holiday weekend, May 24, will concentrate on planting seeds.

Tomorrow and the following week his articles in the Victoria Times magazine section are on beans.

"There are so many different sorts and such a variety of ways to use them, that, with a little careful planning, they may be available practically every day of the year," he says.

He gives a list of beans most satisfactory for gardens in this area.

Looks as if them drama folk objectin' to a distillery's prize jest don't like the spirits of the thing.

Vets Ask Increased Allowances

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP).—The Canadian Legion, spokesman for some 300,000 war veterans, appealed to the government today to boost proposed increases in war veterans' allowances by $10 a month for a single person and $30 a month for a married recipient.

Capt. Alfred Watts of Vancouver, Legion president, told the Commons veterans' committee that Legion branches feel the government's proposals "are not great enough."

Heading a delegation, he suggested:

1. The basic rates for war veterans' allowances be raised to $60 a month for a single person, from the current $40, and $120 for a married recipient from the current $70. The government wants to raise the rates to $50 for a single man and $90 for those who are married.

2. Ceilings on maximum permissible income for an allowance recipient be raised to $1,200 for single and $2,000 for married men, instead of the government's proposed $720 and $1,200, respectively.

3. Additional allowances for the war veterans' children. When both parents are living, these children get no assistance other than the family allowances, Capt. Watts said.

SLAYER MEETS DEATH UNREPENTANT

Canadian Confessed 3 Toronto Murders; Executed in San Quentin

SAN QUENTIN, May 9 (AP).—A sullen killer, Stanley Buckowski, 27, was executed at San Quentin prison today for the pistol-slaying of an aged woman during a hold-up

While in prison, he also confessed to the gun-slaying of three persons in Toronto.

Buckowski was strapped into the death chamber chair and the lethal gas fumes started at 10.03 a.m., PDT. Ten minutes later prison doctors pronounced him dead.

Before he went to the gas chamber, Buckowski broke his silence only to snarl at those who offered him help in his last hours.

"You dog, what do you want now?" was the greeting Warden Harley O. Teets said he got on visiting Buckowski's death-row cell.

Teets said he wanted to inform the sallow-faced Canadian that a prison chaplain would visit him.

"I want no part of him," Buckowski said.

"But remember, Stan, you're a Catholic. You should talk to Father (Daniel) McAlister," Teets urged.

"He's just plain ornery," Teets said, reporting that prison guards had to force Buckowski to take a bath.

Buckowski, who was born in Winnipeg and grew up in Toronto, was sentenced to death for murdering an 82-year-old woman who surprised him while he was robbing her home in Los Angeles, February, 1950.

Buckowski shot and killed Mrs. Helen Edmunds after he brushed off his 25-year-old wife, Jean, and told her to "take a walk around the block." Both were tried for the murder. He was convicted and sentenced to death Dec. 4, 1950. She was acquitted.

A policewoman testified at the trial that Mrs. Buckowski told her after their arrest: "I knew my husband was going to break into the house. When he came out he told me he had to shoot a man. I didn't know until later it was an old woman who was killed."

The court set the date of execution for Nov. 16, 1951. But a month before Buckowski won a temporary stay of execution pending an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States on the ground that a judicial error had been committed at his trial.

While his appeal was up before the high tribunal Buckowski confessed to the Toronto murders of Alfred Layng and Robert and Gloria McKay in 1949. The three murders had remained unsolved for two years.

He made his confession to prison authorities and Ontario police and Crown Attorney William Gibson who made a special trip to California.

He said he confessed to the Toronto killings because he didn't want somebody else to get blamed.

After the triple murder Buckowski fled to the United States. He robbed homes—picking on the rich-looking ones — in several states and finally ended up in California where the law caught up with him for the last time.

On Feb. 28 the Supreme Court refused to consider his appeal and execution of the death sentence was set for today.

Prison officials who studied Buckowski during his nearly 17 months in the death row described him as an "unhappy, dangerous" man who would kill anybody who got in his way.

The world was "peopled by punks," he told them, and robbery was the only "easy way to make a living."

One of his few relaxations during his death-house stay was playing the clarinet.

Buckowski refused 11th-hour attempts by his lawyer to obtain a stay of execution.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

Jimmy Roberts, down at Eaton's, thought it was just his lucky day when he kept finding dimes on the store's floor.

"Look at that," he said to a customer as he picked up a coin. "That's the third one I've found this morning. Great country this. Money lying all over the place."

The customer asked him if he'd looked to see if there was a hole in his own pocket. He hadn't, but he did, and there was.

Stott

"Whadaya know," said Jimmy. "It's my own. And here I was so pleased with my luck I flipped the second dime I found to a kid passing by. Aw, well, it's only money."

Now me, I never lose coins from my pockets. There's no money in them—just holes. I'm perforated. The moths got into our closet last year and they liked us. We're adopted. But it's embarrassing. Moths have no sense of decency at all when it comes to boring holes in dress trousers.

But in the jackets the moths were a little more considerate. They went for the pockets and ate inward. I can put my hand in my pocket and reach clear around to the back. If I want to, I can even shake hands with myself between my coat and the lining. It looks a bit silly, but I can do it.

For a while at our house we thought last year had been a bad season for moths and that this year was just the same. We thought it was probably like that for everybody. My friend who's an entomologist says it's nothing of the kind. He says clothes moths don't thrive in cycles. They just thrive.

Small Wife, Large Family

Moths, he explains, enjoy geometric progression. That means that if you have one moth and she lays 50 or a 100 eggs, you may get up to 50 females in the first batch of young in a matter of a few weeks. Then the 50 females may lay another 50 to 100 eggs apiece and each keeps up the process until you can't count far enough.

Now there's nothing wrong with the moths themselves. They cause no harm at all. It's their juvenile delinquents who take the wool out of your jackets. Those juvenile delinquents, whom my friend calls larvae, can be active for two or three weeks.

There isn't much satisfaction in gallumping around a room taking swipes at an airborne moth until you've knocked it down. Chances are that the old girl has laid her eggs before she ventured into the light.

But you can take defensive action. You can grab all your clothes and hang them up on the line in the sunshine. Clothes moths don't like light and they don't like cold.

To be sure, though, you have to fumigate. My friend tells me that firms who take in the ladies' fur coats for the summer usually fumigate about four times. They give the garment the deep freeze, then they warm it to bring out the young before they let the larvae have the gas treatment. They have to repeat the performance because fur coats are just as warm for clothes moths as they are for humans. Give a moth a chance to nestle nicely into the girl friend's muskrat and it'll be cosy all through the artificial cold snap.

Home Treatment

At home, you can put a saucer of tetrachloride on a high shelf in the closet and let it vaporize. In gas form it's heavier than air and flows down. Moths haven't a chance with tetrachloride. They don't like lavender, or camphor, either, but neither of the latter is lethal.

And those people who buy The Times can protect their clothes by wrapping them in the newspaper. The Times printer's ink just isn't to a moth's liking. That's one reason The Times uses printer's ink. Just an additional service to the home-owner.

Or you can forget about the whole thing, put a clothes moth under a magnifying glass and learn to appreciate the beauty of the insect. We're getting quite chummy with them at our place.

Red Triangle Troupe Ready For Korea Hop

Third Entertainment Group Volunteers

Theres' a third Victoria entertainment troupe contending for the possible Korea assignment.

Mrs. Joan McNeill, leader of the Y.M.C.A.'s Red Triangle show, says she and her entertainers are ready and willing to go.

"My troupe got the same questionnaire the Hometowners and the Smile Show received from the defense department stating that the Canadian Government had decided to send concert groups to entertain troops on the war front," she said.

The "Y" Red Triangle show has been active on the services' entertainment front for a year. They also went to Fort Lewis last year to entertain Canadian troops there.

The troupe numbers 12, but Mrs. O'Neill would have to pare the traveling group to a maximum of six.

"Like the other groups we would have salary troubles should we get the assignment," said the "Y" leader.

Should one of these three troupes get the call, George Macdonald, now in hospital, has offered to start the ball rolling with $200 to establish a fund to provide salaries. We will also put up a $500 television set, on which he figures it should be easy to raise $2,000 or more in a few days.

SOLDIER WANTED DEATH IN U.S. NOT AT FRONT

SEATTLE, May 9 (AP).—A 21-year-old soldier who said he would "rather die here than in Korea" was prevented from doing so late last night when he was dragged from a precarious 10th-floor perch on the outside of a hotel fire escape.

The soldier, who identified himself as Pte. Jack Madsen, 21, had stood outside the railing holding by one hand while police detective Don Sprinkle begged and pleaded with him not to let go. Sprinkle kept talking, edging closer all the while.

"I'd rather die here than in Korea," Sprinkle said Madsen told him nervously.

"Come in and talk it over, Jack," Sprinkle said. "It isn't as bad as that." Then he grabbed the young soldier by his arm. Clarence Owen, a bellhop, pinioned his shoulders. The soldier broke down in a fit of tears.

Madsen was turned over to military authorities.

CUT IN GRANT BLAMED

Sea Cadets May Be Forced To Reduce Strength Here

Fears that the strength of the Rainbow Sea Cadets may have to be reduced were expressed today by Forrest L. Shaw, chairman of the Victoria branch of the Navy League of Canada.

He said this was a possibility owing to the recent action of the city council in cutting out the annual grant to the sea cadets.

"What the grant actually amounted to was the taxes for our headquarters building at the foot of Robert Street, but it means we are still out more than $600," Mr. Shaw said.

"With donations from the public decreasing—the corps is operated totally on monies donated by citizens of the area—I think we may have to reduce the corps as it costs about $4,500 a year to operate it," he said.

The aepyornis, an extinct bird, laid an egg that was equal to a gross of hen's eggs.

Famous Canadian Diamond Operator Offers Shipment of Gems for Sale

LONDON, May 9 (AP) — Dr. John Toburn Williamson, Canadian geologist who keeps a hoard of diamonds worth fortunes, was offering some of his gems for sale in London today.

But on the open market there were "just a few, worth possibly £500,000," it was said in the diamond trade.

So there still was uncertainty whether Dr. Williamson, who is in Africa, was determined to become a large-scale competitor of the Diamond Sales Corporation, which for half a century has controlled the quantities of diamonds the world might buy, and the prices it paid. Its tight regulation kept prices stable and made diamonds an excellent investment. Dr. Williamson is a native of Montreal and was educated at McGill.

A contract obliging Dr. Williamson to sell his diamonds through the sales corporation expired Jan. 1, and for some months he sold little of the production of his Mwadui diamond mine near Shinyanga in Tanganyika, East Africa. Now the first substantial quantities of his diamonds have been received, not by brokers in the trade, but by the Standard Bank of South Africa in London, which has instructions to show them to customers.

U.S. to Make Decision Soon On Aluminum

WASHINGTON, May 9, (AP) —Manly Fleischmann, who is retiring as defense production administrator May 31, said Thursday "I hope to make a decision on aluminum industry expansion before I leave."

He was referring, at a press conference, to a problem of long standing—whether to try to insure greater future supplies of aluminum by (1) expansion of the United States aluminum industry or (2) through a supply of agreement with Canada, which produces more aluminum than it needs for its own use.

U.S. aluminum producers have opposed any plan for government-guaranteed aluminum purchases from Canada.

April 21 the Aluminum Company of Canada offered an export program to the U.S. It involved aluminum exports to the U.S. for the years 1952 to 1958, inclusive, amounting to 1,110,000 tons. The Alcan offer requested that the U.S. government guarantee purchase of 450,000 tons out of the total, consisting of a maximum of 50,000 tons in 1954 and a maximum of 100,000 tons in 1955 through 1958. This was a revision of an earlier Alcan proposal which envisaged a larger purchase guarantee and a longer guarantee.

BAIN-WAVE — A seagoing brain-wave machine, installed on a hospital ship, is the United States Navy's latest aid in studying head wounds suffered by sailors and marines in Korea.

Disclosing this today, navy doctors at Washington said the machine is the same type of delicate instrument used for diagnosing brain injuries in land-based hospitals. But they never thought it would work on a pitching ship in an environment of vibrating generators and other electrical equipment.

ASSIMILATION — White men should not try to remold the American Indian into their own image, author Oliver La Farge said at Washington Thursday night.

Up to a point, assimilation is inevitable, he told the opening session of a three-day Institute on American Indian Assimilation. But the white man's task is to help the Indian make proper choices. Each group must be free to accept or reject those parts of the other's culture which are not suitable, he contended.

DEADLOCK — Representatives of 46 countries, including Canada, meeting in London to discuss renewal of the international wheat agreement under which most of the world's exportable wheat is sold, have reached a deadlock on quantities and prices, it was reported today.

A usually reliable source said that as these are the crux of the present discussions, the conference will be adjourned shortly. The present agreement expires July 31, 1953, and some 160 experts have been meeting to discuss its continuation.

DEFENSE—Sir John Hodsoll, Britain's No. 1 expert on the subject, said today he rates Canada ahead of the United States in civil defense.

Back in London from a visit to Canada, where he watched a rehearsal of defense services, Sir John said much progress has been made in the last couple of years.

He said he hopes to see an exchange system for civil defense instruction arranged between Canada and the U.S.

PARAPLEGICS—The Canadian Paraplegics' Association will hold its annual reunion at Toronto May 23, it was announced today by G. Ken Langford, general secretary. Delegates from Halifax, Montreal, Winnipeg and Ontario are expected to attend.

John G. Counsell of Toronto was elected president and managing director of the association at the board of directors' meeting.

SAUCERS — Rio de Janeiro newspapers printed pictures today of a "flying saucer."

Press photographers who happened to have cameras ready caught five shots of the object at a low altitude Thursday.

The pictures showed a round object in the air over Barra da Tijuca, a Rio suburb.

The pictures will be sent to the United States Air Force general staff at Washington for examination.

REUNION—At Louisville, Ky., a four-year-old Polish boy, separated from his parents when the Nazis occupied Poland seven years ago, was reunited with them Thursday. Sturdy and tanned, 11-year-old Eliezer Lewin stepped from a plane into a joyous exchange of kisses, embraces and tears. The parents reached Louisville in 1949 after leaving a displaced persons camp in Germany.

Cheaper Drugs Asked in House

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP)—Two party leaders Thursday urged in the Commons that Canada abolish import duties on new drugs being developed for the treatment of lengthy heart and other diseases, particularly new vitamin E concentrates.

They drew an immediate reply from a government spokesman that the matter is constantly under review; that concessions have already been made and that more exemptions may be forthcoming.

The plea came first from Solon Low, Social Credit leader, as the Commons considered resolutions to implement tariff and tax changes made in the 1952-53 budget presented April 8.

He obtained support from M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader; Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre) and from John Blackmore (S.C., Lethbridge).

Mr. Blackmore said that the government's tax policy for the common man is "close to criminal" and said he knows of people who "have to give up their loved ones" because they haven't the money to buy high-priced drugs.

James Sinclair, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, said substitute blood plasma, aureomycin, streptomycin and vitamins of high concentrations are among drugs recently taken off the duty list by Canada.

CONSTANT STUDY

"The minister is giving continual study to these requests and as the opportunity offers the last of drug exemptions is extended," he said.

The request for drug exemptions was one of many demands for lowering of taxes and tariffs made by members. These ranged from abolishing tariffs on books and hearing aids, made by R. R. Knight (C.C.F.—Saskatoon) to a request by C. A. Cannon (L.—Magdalen Islands) for sales tax exemption for fishermen's gear.

C. E. Johnston (S.C.—Bow River) said parliament should make manufacturers pass on tax reductions through lower prices. However, Mr. Sinclair said there is no chance. No agreements had been made with the industries concerned to pass on tax reductions.

Mr. Knowles said some way should be found to reimburse those who had paid the special excise tax on stoves, refrigerators and washing machines in the last year. The tax now is repealed.

MRS. F. MUTRIE

Victoria Welfare Officer to Attend Forum at Ottawa

Mrs. Florence Mutrie, city welfare officer, will leave next week for Ottawa to attend a special forum on welfare matters in the civil defense picture.

Korean Peace Talks Further Stalled As Communists Await Instructions

MUNSAN, Korea, May 9 (AP)—Deadlocked Korean truce negotiators met for only 10 minutes today. A United Nations command spokesman said the Reds probably awaited new instructions from higher up.

The negotiations are stalled over the issue of prisoner exchange, the only major block in the path of an armistice.

After today's brief session, Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, Allied spokesman, said he did not think the Communists have had an opportunity to "get new instructions." He called attention to recent statements by top officials in Canada, Britain and the U.S. supporting the uncompromising U.N. command stand that no prisoners will be forced to return to Red rule against their will.

North Korean Gen. Na Il again demanded unconditional return of Red prisoners in Allied hands and rejected the U.N. proposal to return only those who would go voluntarily.

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief U.N. delegate, replied: "The firmness and finality of the United Nations command position should be unmistakably clear to you by this time. I have nothing else to say."

They agreed to meet again tomorrow in Panmunjom at 11 a.m.

Nam has made no mention of the seizure of Brig.-Gen. Francis T. Dodd by Communist prisoners in the Allied stockade on Koje Island. But he spoke of "heroic resistance" of Communist prisoners to what he called coercion to deny them "unconditional repatriation."

The U.N. has informed the Red captives held want to return Reds that only 70,000 of 169,000 to the Communists. The Reds demand that the Allies return 132,000.

Former Head Mission Group Funeral Set

Joseph S. Whiting, 1691 Chandler, who served as superintendent of Shantymen's Christian Association, Vancouver Island, from 1921 to 1950, will be buried here Saturday.

Funeral services for Mr. Whiting, who died Tuesday at the age of 74, will be held at McCall Bros.' chapel at 3.15.

A native of Birmingham, England, he had resided in Victoria since 1918. Mr. Whiting remained presiding officer of the Shantymen's prayer meetings until April 24, when he was taken ill. He was also an active member of the Victoria Branch of the Canadian Protestant League.

Besides his widow, he leaves a daughter, Ruth Whiting, at home; two brothers and two sisters in England and two brothers in Australia. Burial will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

John Dunbar Guest At Annual Concert

St.-Martin-in-the-Fields Church choir gave its annual concert to a capacity audience in the parish hall, Obed Avenue, on Thursday night.

Highlight of the evening was the singing of guest artist John Dunbar who gave "The Cobbler's Song" from "Chu Chin Chow," and "Song of the Isles."

Taking part in the concert were Connie Painter, Muriel Levings, Marianne Rask, Ada Fox, Michael Kolb, Alice Syret, Eva Boam, May Groves, Kitty Millard, Amy Toombs, Frank Watts, Bert Levings and Bill Smith.

Canon A. E. Greenhalgh was chairman.

Members of the choir presented a play by R. N. Hincks entitled "Gilding the Lilies."

Eva Boam directed the choir.

Australia to Cut Dollar Spending 20 Per Cent

CANBERRA, May 9, (Reuters)—The Australian government today took the first formal step in slashing imports from dollar sources, including Canada. It announced a 20-per-cent cut in licenses for imports outstanding March 31.

Authoritative sources said similar reductions are expected in buying for the period beginning April 1.

"It is not practicable to apply a percentage cut to each license (covering the import of specific goods) so some licenses will be issued unchanged, some reduced and some canceled," said Customs Minister Neil O'Sullivan.

The dollar-import program has been under review since March 20, when the government suspended all imports licenses.

Last year Australia spent £70,000,000 Australian ($156,800,000) on dollar imports, mostly from the United States. The new restrictions will reduce this spending by about $31,360,000.

O'Sullivan said the government had set a ceiling on the value of new dollar import licenses to be authorized between now and Sept. 30.

He said the need for saving dollars was linked with general dollar deficiency of the sterling areas.

STUART KEATE, Publisher — BRUCE HUTCHISON, Editor

Mr. Douglas in a Hurry

THERE IS SOMETHING RATHER comic in Premier Douglas' choice of an election date in Saskatchewan. He is rushing to the polls one day before the election in British Columbia. The reason is obvious. Mr. Douglas fears a serious C.C.F. defeat here and wishes to meet his own electors before they are discouraged by the news from British Columbia.

This, of course, takes no consideration of Mr. Winch's convenience. For in reverse, if Mr. Douglas is defeated on June 11, the result will not help the C.C.F. in British Columbia on June 12.

Actually the two elections have no real connection. They are being fought on entirely different issues and, so far as the C.C.F. is concerned on entirely different policies.

The Saskatchewan C.C.F. government began on a program of socialism. It bought up various industries and began to demonstrate that it could run them better than their private owners. The great emancipation was under way.

By 1948, when most of the state-owned industries were losing money, when Saskatchewan was losing population and other provinces, without benefit of socialism, were forging ahead of it, the Douglas government suddenly began to see the virtues of free enterprise and desperately tried to attract investors. That year the government squeaked by an election with the loss of 16 seats, and in the federal election of the following year it carried only five of Saskatchewan's 21 constituencies.

Now the Douglas government is campaigning not on socialism but on good old-fashioned public expenditures designed to influence the voters with their own money. This program includes $75 millions for road construction (surefire election stuff) together with huge sums for other attractive purposes. And who is to pay for all this? Not socialism but free enterprise. By attracting private investment into Saskatchewan, Mr. Douglas says, his government will find the goose that lays the golden eggs.

Mr. Winch, however, has never been in office or had the slightest experience in administering any business, public or private. He and his friends are still enjoying the first careless rapture of socialism, which Mr. Douglas has outlived. The C.C.F. here proposes to enforce the old Regina Manifesto which calls for the extermination of "capitalism." It asks power to socialize any industry it pleases and it undertakes to attract investment by the old method of threatening investors with paralyzing taxes and expropriation.

The C.C.F. here and in Saskatchewan are thus poles apart. They are agreed, however, on one thing—the necessity of winning the forthcoming elections. For today the C.C.F. throughout Canada is engaged in a life-and-death struggle. It has to demonstrate by electoral gains that the socialist movement is not perishing altogether. It has no significant strength in the Maritimes, none in Quebec, has been almost exterminated in Ontario, on the prairies retains only its bridgehead in Saskatchewan and it profits in British Columbia mainly through the quarrels of the old parties.

But the C.C.F. in Saskatchewan has at least one powerful advantage. It can attack the farm policies of a Liberal government in Ottawa.

The farmers are disgusted with the international wheat agreement which they encouraged the federal government to sign. They want higher floor prices on beef (at the expense of the consumer and taxpayer), and more protection for pork, and other benefits. These matters, of course, are not under provincial jurisdiction but the provincial Liberals under Mr. Walter Tucker can be blamed for the alleged shortcomings of the federal government. This, no doubt, will be very effective in the present campaign. Mr. Douglas may have abandoned socialism but he knows how to win elections.

Two Distinct Issues for Firemen

VICTORIA FIREMEN HAVE ENLISTED the support of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council in their campaign against elimination of a city fire hall. In one particular the council's action is of more direct concern to the unions than it is to the public at large.

For that reason, the two major points at issue in the city's action should be viewed separately and distinctly. Everyone is interested, or should be, in the question of adequate fire protection for Victoria. That is item No. 1.

Of more specific interest to unions is the policy which the city has laid down to finance fire protection. The council, on the basis of statements made during discussions, apparently feels it has so much money, and so much only, for that service. This is not to say that the mayor and aldermen wouldn't prefer to have more money to furnish more halls and more personnel. Unquestionably they would. As elected representatives of the citizens, however, they have been confronted with the problem of weighing mounting labor costs for fire protection against the ability, or willingness, of the taxpayer to meet those costs. That, surely, is a justifiable position for the elected representatives of the people to take.

When the council was faced with an increase of 17 per cent in firemen's wages, it was confronted with two alternatives. It could either place that extra burden on the backs of the taxpayers and maintain existing staff, or it could reduce the number of employees to a degree which compensated in a large measure for the higher wage bill.

The council chose the second course. The union, in other words, has succeeded largely in winning its case for higher wages. But, if the council maintains its position, the union will have reached its goal at the expense of some of its own members, not at the expense of the taxpayers.

The council, by rough analogy, has found itself in a role similar to that of the housewife who wished to buy a dozen eggs, found the price too high, and bought three-quarters of a dozen instead.

The council, it may be said, has shown buyer resistance in the purchase of fire protection. If the price had been lower, it would have bought more. A similar condition prevails in private industry. It is noticeable particularly in the construction field, where many people wish to build new homes but feel they cannot afford to.

That is a matter of direct concern to unions. They must determine for themselves how far they can go in wage demands before they lose the market for their products and suffer the consequences of a lower demand for their services.

Separate and distinct from that consideration is the question of public safety in the event of fire. That, at all times, is a matter of calculated risk. It should not, however, be used as a means of confusing the wage issue.

Douks and the Soft Answer

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S SCIENTIFIC approach to the Doukhobor problem—a far cry from the primitive application of itching powder to nude paraders in a day long past—has yielded the warning that violence may soon be revived by the intractable Sons of Freedom. Already, according to press reports, there have been scattered cases of arson in the interior.

The committee investigating the question has indicated an immediate need for reforms in the Doukhobor colony, presumably by the government, to give the recalcitrants a greater measure of citizenship. The recommendation will arouse indignation in many parts of this province. Inevitably law-abiding residents will want to know why such consideration should be extended to a group, or faction, which has shown itself unwilling, or unable, to abide by the laws of British Columbia or to conform to the normal procedure of social behavior in this part of the world.

An explanation may be advanced by the psychiatrist who has studied the Doukhobors. He finds reasons for unnatural behavior in the type of life they lead and in their parent-child relationship. The implications of his report are that the radical members of the cult are unbalanced and consequently adopt anti-social forms of behavior.

Under currently popular views of mental health, the procedure to be followed in the existing circumstances would be one of treatment rather than punishment. Punishment has been tried. The problem has not been solved by it.

Having gone so far as it has in investigating the causes of trouble among the sectists, the government may justifiably give heed to the investigating committee's suggestions. If they do that, the authorities will face criticism. It is difficult for the average person to accept the idea that threats of violence and lawlessness should not be countered by threats of force. But since the latter apparently have failed, the new approach deserves consideration.

British Columbians would be happy to see the cause of trouble removed by a migration of the Sons. Efforts to stimulate such an exodus have been rebuffed by the refusal of other countries to accept our trouble-makers.

If we must live with them, treatment to relieve them of their social disabilities may provide the most comfortable course.

'Caddy' and the 'Little Men'

IT IS SAID, EDITORIALLY, THAT Ottawa is sad because there is in its river or in the lakes nearby no monster to rival Victoria's "Caddy." Ottawa has no such fearsome creature to lure tourists and tourist dollars to its cash registers.

But there is a substitute, it is suggested editorially by the Ottawa Journal. Ottawa is prepared to admit that there could be flying saucers. From there the newspaper gives its fancy play and pictures "little men from another planet scampering through the bush of King Mountain, their flippers and antennae waving."

Yet the Journal is only half hearted in suggesting that these "little men" be offered as publicity rivals to "Caddy." Which is understandable enough.

There is something just a trifle unstable about flying saucers. Travelers of an earlier day have told us of the saucers which piled up before the bon vivant winning at the Parisian sidewalk cafe. As he drank, assuredly the saucers would appear. And when he had consumed enough, who is to say the saucers would not take to the air, zooming and flickering before his eyes, through a haze in which the very pavement seemed to heave and buildings reel?

The Journal does well to treat the matter gingerly. Who would compare such visions of airborne saucers with the factual, sober accounts of "Caddy"—a creature of cold water only?

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

OVER yonder in Vancouver they have a Burrard Inlet and a Burrard Street and a Burrard Bridge. Also a Burrard Dry Dock, a Burrard Yacht Club, and various Burrard business names, including the Burrard Demolishing Company. The common practice is to pronounce the name "B'rard," with the first syllable slurred. The snobs, however, insist on trying to make me say "Burr'rd," with the second syllable slurred. It is good news to hear that the ignorant and the snobs are both wrong. The present heir of the Admiral says that his family name is pronounced with only one syllable . . . "Burd," like that. I don't know if this rhymes with "word" as pronounced in England, or with "wurd," as pronounced in Scotland. But at any rate, it's a single syllable, hooray. It is always a charming revenge to discover the snobs are just as wrong as the blokes they went round correcting.

Brock

TALKING of snobbish pronunciations, I once knew a woman who insisted on speaking of "aristocrats" as if it were purely a French word, with the TS left off it, so that it rhymed with "bah." She liked the sound of this so much, she used it three or four times at a single dinner, till finally another guest was heard to mutter: "What that woman needs is a kick in the slah."

FRENCH COOKERY BOOKS

ABOUT a month ago, Mrs. Andison gave those demonstrations in French cookery. You read about them here in The Times, as ably reported by Don Ingham. She advised us to brush up on the old French a i buy a first-rate cookery book in French, such as a Larousse Gastronomique. She added that we'd better check on the price of that, though. Well, I have just been flicking through a catalogue of Brentano's (New York). It is several years old, so when they say they'll let you have a Larousse Gastronomique for $17.50, maybe that's a bit out of date. Even if the franc has gone down since then, the price of books can go up. But anyhow, you can see the book might cost a lot.

YOU CAN get a copy of the great Escoffier's Guide for half that price, and it should be equally useful. But all these monumental works are apt to be a little depressing, surely, if you just want to fool around. Not only can you find in them a hundred things you've always wanted to know, but you have thrust upon you ten thousand things you're blowed if you want to know. For a couple of dollars you can buy an excellent French book on family cookery. Indeed, you can buy translations of two or three of them, at least. There is an English translation of that good soul who called herself Tante Marie . . . Aunt Mary. Andre Simon says she's a whiz, and he should know.

AND there is Andre Simon's own French cook book, slightly adapted to American needs by Crosby Gaige and published by Little, Brown. Its chapters on wine will make you wistful, but the rest of it should stimulate you. And there is De Gouy writing in English, about whom I'm always reminding you. By all means get an Escoffier and a huge Larousse. But it does seem a mighty bold start, somehow! Oh, well . . . don't let me discourage you.

PLUGS

WHY is it quite all right for a journalist or broadcaster to give a book his hearty blessing, but quite all wrong for him to mention the name of some food or drink he admires? He can tell you the price and author and publisher of the book, and nobody thinks this odd. But if he tells you it is worth writing to Brantford, Ontario, for certain kinds of cheese (or getting your dealer to write), then he is at once suspected of unfair practices. Possibly the cheesemaker has bribed him. In any event, he is being unfair to rival outfits, and to local merchants, and so on. Also, he is doing his employer a bad turn by giving away free space to a potential advertiser, while other advertisers have to pay.

NATURALLY, one can understand such criticisms, in the main. But it does seem queer that I can approve publicly of a good book but not of a good cheese. This custom must surely lower our standards in cheese-eating, because it prevents the free circulation of glad tidings. I am quite willing to be forbidden (by law or custom) to say "X Cheese is filthy." Even when it is abominable stuff. But I resent not being able to say "Y Cheese is heavenly." I know of only two cook books (both English) which commend certain products by name, and are obviously unpaid to do so. I wish to goodness (and I mean goodness) that all cook books went in for this healthy form of unfairness. The New Yorker magazine manages to judge a good many products around Christmas time, but not at other seasons.

WE'RE all frightfully prudent about naming no names. But are we entirely sensible? By being bold, just now and then, we could make hundreds of cooks and their families far happier, and the world a better place. Yet if I told you to sit down now and drop a postcard to Proctor's Old Cherry Hill Cheese House, Brantford . . . as I dropped one last month, with delightful results . . . you yourself might be happier, but a lot of readers would be very cross indeed. It is surprising how cross people can get. Perhaps it is because they're not very well fed.

Wig Government

Toronto Globe and Mail

The British Parliament has solemnly voted, by a majority of 292 to 271, that henceforth any one who wants a wig from the National Health Service will have to pay £2 10s for it, or about $7.50. Up till now, under the benevolent scheme inaugurated by Mr. Aneurin Bevan, wigs were free.

The wonder of the thing surely is that any one should ever have believed, or that 272 British M.P.'s should still believe, that it is the duty of the state to provide a bald man with false hair.

When thought about, the idea that the state should buy wigs for the bald is as hilarious as anything in Gilbert and Sullivan.

Hunting for a Weak Spot

Under Our Roof

By JOHN RHODES STURDY

MONTREAL—Last night Little Augie and I did a post-mortem on the local bistros and came unhappily to the conclusion that the old days have gone forever. We spent hours on this tour of research and we didn't see one person get stabbed. As a matter of fact we didn't even see anybody get clonked over the head with a bottle.

Sturdy

This depressed Little Augie no end. "The old joie de vie is dead," he announced sadly as we sat in our twenty-second port of call and watched the well-mannered patrons. I agreed with him, because in the old days this particular spot was famous for its joie de vie.

The entrance to this place was up a narrow dark staircase, with a door at the top, and it was always wise to shout up the stairway and enquire if the coast was clear. Otherwise you were in danger of being hit by a flying customer. The bouncer took pride in his ability to toss a patron out on the sidewalk without hitting a single step.

It was nearly always done good-naturedly, mind you. Neither the management nor the bouncer bore any ill-feeling towards the guest being tossed out. As a matter of fact, the bouncer often apologized beforehand.

"There is more excitement on your island," Little Augie remarked. "I think we should start back for the Coast pretty soon."

I looked at the former blind-pig king with some misgivings. I had brought him to Montreal with me, hoping that the sight of familiar surroundings would make him want to stay. But here he was actually longing for the country.

This night spot and the one before it had really depressed us. The other place had been really famous in its day, but now even the old name was gone. It used to have a Russian motif, with balalaika-players and sword-dancers. When Russia invaded Finland it suddenly became Polish, but reverted to Russian again when that nation joined the allies. At one point, when events were moving so fast and confusedly, it decided to play safe and became Spanish for a while, but as Franco wasn't too popular, it made another quick switch and turned Scandinavian. The management was Polish, the maitre d' was Rumanian and the two bartenders were Irishmen. One of them kept a blackthorn shillelagh in a conspicuous position behind the bar to discourage customers who could not assimilate the international flavor of the place.

But now even this landmark was gone.

"Did I tell you," said Little Augie, "that I ran into Big Moxie today?"

I choked over my pousse cafe. I know I must have turned suddenly pale and I cast frightened glances over my shoulder, because even the mention of Big Moxie's name was enough to cause brave men to shake in their shoes. When you actually saw Big Moxie in the flesh it was always wise to go in the opposite direction, fast.

"There don't seem to be any bullet holes in you," I said to Little Augie in some surprise.

He looked depressed. "Big Moxie is changed," he said.

"You mean, he's not running his blind pig any more?"

"Oh, he's still in the same location," Little Augie said. "It's a tea room now."

"A what!"

"A gypsy tea room. He says that he serves excellent scones and Banbury tarts. And you can get your tea leaves read by Fat Mary."

"His moll?"

"His ex-moll," said Little Augie. "They're married now and have a son. Big Moxie plans to send him to McGill when he grows up." Little Augie sighed. "Everything is legitimate these days. Let's go back to your island."

We rose sadly and walked towards the door. Just at that moment we saw a big bull-necked man in a tuxedo suddenly reach out to a nearby table, grab a customer who was complaining about his drink and toss him down the stairs and into the street.

The manager came running. He started to belabor the big bouncer and the latter turned suddenly pale.

"I'm sorry, boss," he muttered miserably. "Honest, boss, I'm really sorry. I guess I just forgot myself."

The manager's face was stern. "Turn in your tux, Louie," he said. "You're fired!"

Little Augie and I walked slowly downstairs and into the street. A bouncer apologizing for tossing a customer and Big Moxie running a tea-room. The old Montreal was no more.

Tomorrow we head west.

Imported Politics

Saskatoon Star-Phoenix

Some time ago it was suggested that Alberta and British Columbia should erase the dotted line which divides them on the map and become a single province.

The proposal seems to have been taken literally by the Social Credit party and its sheet anchor, the Alberta government. So much so that the B.C. Social Credit party, acting under what is described as an "ultimatum" from outside the province, has "chosen" as its campaign manager the Rev. E. G. Hansell, member of parliament for an Alberta constituency and national president of the party.

How British Columbia voters react to this performance is, of course, their own business.

Maybe they will welcome Alberta's benevolent interest in their affairs. Maybe, on the other hand, they will wonder whether the explanation is that the party stalwarts in Alberta feel the British Columbia Social Credit organization is not to be trusted to bathe in the coast province's political puddle without supervision—in which case they may decide that it is not to be trusted by British Columbians either.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime BY H. T. WEBSTER

Superior

Calgary Herald

We are convinced that the Parliamentary system is greatly superior to the system of divided powers as practiced across the line. It is completely flexible; it can be adapted in a few minutes to such emergencies as war; and despite the anxiety we feel about the encroachment on individual rights, it does not seem to us that American citizens are any better protected by their written Constitution than Canadians are by the long and honorable tradition that there are certain things which the executive must not do.

As Our Readers See It

DENIAL

In reference to Alderman B. Murdock's charges that the Federation of Russian Canadians is a Communist-inspired organization, we state that our organization is non-political.

We have a Dominion Charter issued by the federal government. Our national executive committee has a full-fledged archbishop and several lesser dignitaries of Greek Orthodox faith. The local branch has existed in Victoria for over a decade.

During that time we have collected in the neighborhood of $1,000 for Canadian Red Cross and help other welfare societies.

What prompted Alderman Murdock to lay his outlandish charge at this late hour? Our society is open to all regardless of their religion or political beliefs, age or sex. Musical ability is essential.

HARMONY

Once again there is talk of a demand being made by the churches for "Christian education" in the schools.

It is sad that there should be any controversy between the institutional religionists and the educationists as to what should be taught to the children.

Does not the story of the child of four who when asked what it learnt on the first day at a nursery school replied: "I learnt to get on with the other kids," have a lesson for everyone? Happy living from the cradle to the grave consists in nothing more nor less than the ability to get on with the other "kids."

Once we have grasped this we are happy and contribute to the happiness of others. We are free from fear; and because we love life we do not fear death. When we have gained this love of others we do not allow any word, not even the word religion, to divide us from them.

Is it not time that we in Victoria who wish to make the world better for all, and especially for the children, drew together in order to clear away the misunderstandings regarding what is, and is not, "Christian education?" Frank discussion would make it plain that the differences between institutional religionists and educationists are mainly due to the meanings given to words.

Can any thoughtful person deny that our schools are making a valiant attempt to teach a way of living based on Christian ethics? It is Christian doctrine that fetters thought and divides those who are filled with the same motive.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

"Our 'lily' is not correctly so called, although it belongs to the lily family," says Times Magazine, May 3. Why should our lilies be refused their family name?

Supposing Anglo-Saxons, throughout long centuries courteously referring to the Fleur de Lys as "Lilies of France," had, when turned out of France, sent back a secret agent to find a fancied resemblance to a pig's snout in French lily bulbs, and succeeded in naming them, officially, "pig's snout pansies," would this be a sillier name than dog's tooth violets?

Foul Bay, before marred by civilization, must have been beautifully romantic, fit for Peter Pan and the fairies to cavort in. Who gave it the offensive name of Foul, likely to stick to it as long as the world shall last?

Its close proximity to the musical Latin name "Gonzales" is significant. Gonzales was neither a surname nor a Christian one. It was the middle name of a Spaniard who never came near the place.

Who recently honored a Frenchman who openly and honestly hated England all his life, by naming a local park, "La Fayette?"

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"THE libraries of the world," said the Elevator Man, "are stocked with books, full of errors, about various countries of the world. And most of the errors are due to the fact that the author skipped into the country, took a hasty look around, skipped out again and wrote his book. What he couldn't remember he guessed at. What he never knew didn't hurt him. But it did his book. And the mistaken things he set down are believed by everybody. The denials never catch up. Even folks right on the scene will often believe what they see in print rather than what they see around them. The pen is mightier than a lot of things besides swords. Lower main!

Tobin

"Of course," said the Elevator Man, "a traveler can run into tough luck now and then. He can swear he saw what he says he saw. But the odds may have been rigged against him. That's what happened to those Mexicans the other day. They were sneaking across the border illegally to find work in the States. But as they came around a sand dune in Arizona only a few yards from the line they were confronted by 60 galloping Arabs, complete with beards, turbans and rifles. The Mexicans took one look at the horsemen and fled back to the safety of their homeland. And as one of them ran he yelled, according to the news item, 'The map was wrong! The map was wrong!' The 60 'Arabs' will be telling that one around Hollywood for a long time, after they get back from making their desert film. Mezzanine!

"A lot of us," said the Elevator Man, "get a view of life something like the view of America the Mexicans got. We enter the world at an unusual time, or we get our first look at it in some unusual place. And naturally our ideas of life and the universe get a queer slant right from the start. What we based our opinion on wasn't typical. It may even have been as big a fake as Hollywood. But it colors our outlook for the rest of our existence. We never find out the map was wrong."

Wary of Banana Peel, Aerialists Live Dangerously

By RON BAIRD

High-flying Bill Madison figures his most embarrassing moment will come the day he slips on a banana peel.

"And that's probably what will happen," he predicted Thursday as he and wife Agnes described how life can be beautiful 70 feet above the Memorial Arena floor when the "Daring Madisons" risk their acrobatic necks for the cash customers.

The Vancouver couple—whose 22-minute act atop a delicate steel pole is considered one of the longest aerial exhibitions on the continent—are currently performing for thousands of Victorians twice a night at the B.C. Products Fair.

Standing on his head atop the 68-foot steel pole, his oxfords nearly scraping the fibreboard roofing, comes easy to hard-muscled Madison, but he finds it "a bit hot" up there by the end of an evening.

FOUR-FOOT TEN

For tiny (four-foot 10-inch) Mrs. Madison, aerial acrobatics entered her life when she married Bill about 15 years ago—she became one of the act about three years ago after nervously "feeling like the audience felt" as they watched her husband swing about on bars and thin pieces of steel high up in the air.

"I don't think it took me too long to catch on—but Bill might," she said.

It's one way of assuring marital bliss.

"We can't afford to get mad at each other before an act—Bill might forget to catch me," Agnes added with a laugh.

School keeps their two children—14-year-old Marilyn and 11-year-old Gerry—firmly anchored to the ground, but they take an interest in acrobatics, which Bill teaches to youngsters as a hobby.

The 34-year-old high-wire expert has been interested in acrobatics since he was 14, has trained aerial performers with circuses and has never fallen during an act—but no insurance company will come forward to place odds that he won't in the future.

NO ERROR MARGIN

"You can't make a mistake up there. Everything is done by feel and we've gone through the act even when the lights went out," says Madison.

His equipment was made in Vancouver and can be set up in a little more than two hours—it can be taken down and loaded onto a truck in about 20 minutes. He and his wife use resin on their hands so that their grip won't slip and adhesive tape to absorb perspiration on their wrists.

They don't go around kicking black cats or superstitiously crossing their fingers before an act—"we don't see any reason to be superstitious," they say.

Non-smokers, they keep in good shape during an "off-season" period by working out at home.

They enjoy watching the emotions of their audiences—a lady once fainted as Bill defied gravity during one show—and both feel that they're as safe up above as they would be on the ground.

British Union Defies Chiefs

BLACKPOOL, England, May 9 (Reuters). — One of Britain's largest industrial unions has defied its leaders and called for a weekly wage boost of £2 for its 800,000 members.

Delegates at the annual conference of the Amalgamated Engineering Union thrust aside an executive plea for moderation and pushed through a resolution demanding the increase.

ATOMIC GUN MARKS NEW ERA IN WAR SAYS U.S. OFFICIAL

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP).—An atomic gun developed by the United States army was described Thursday night as an accurate and devastating weapon, providing field commanders with tremendous "finger-tip" fire power—and heralding a new era in the wage of war.

The description of the first U.S. atomic artillery weapon—a gun that can "hit its target under any weather conditions and give ground troops the kind of devastating close support never before available in warfare"—came from army secretary Frank Pace.

Pace said the new weapon "is essentially an artillery piece—but with immeasurably greater power than any artillery hitherto known."

"Such atomic weapons," he added, eventually bring "significant changes" in the army's traditional mission of closing with and destroying an enemy.

The weapon has been tested by the army with non-atomic ammunition but official specifications of the gun remained a secret until Thursday night.

Malan's Epochal Law Approved

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

CAPETOWN, May 9, (AP).—Prime Minister Daniel Malan's bill to alter South Africa's constitution and keep the courts from killing his white supremacy program won approval in principle Thursday night.

The House of Assembly, controlled by Malan's Nationalist supporters, gave the bill second reading by a vote of 79 to 65 after a bitter 30-hour debate marked by insults and threats as well as arguments and appeals.

The bill now goes to committee of the whole House for clause-by-clause consideration. Malan's majority is strong enough to prevent changes, and the measure now is certain of final passage.

Specifically, the legislation will create a parliamentary high court to decide constitutional issues in place of the Appeals Court, South Africa's present highest tribunal.

Malan's admitted purpose is to clear the way for passage of laws which will trim the voting rights of about 50,000 persons of mixed blood in Cape Province. They would be confined to separate electoral lists, barred from voting for general candidates in elections.

Another clause of the constitution threatened with repeal after parliament takes judicial power is the guarantee that English remain as an official language, along with Afrikaans. Afrikaans, derived from Dutch, is the language of the Boers who make up about 60 per cent of South Africa's white minority and dominate Malan's party.

Tension is growing as the bill proceeds through the House. The suppressed non-white majority of South Africa's population has threatened nation-wide disobedience of racial laws. They already are barred from skilled jobs and their ownership of property is restricted.

Opposition whites also are restive, especially in such English-speaking provinces as Natal.

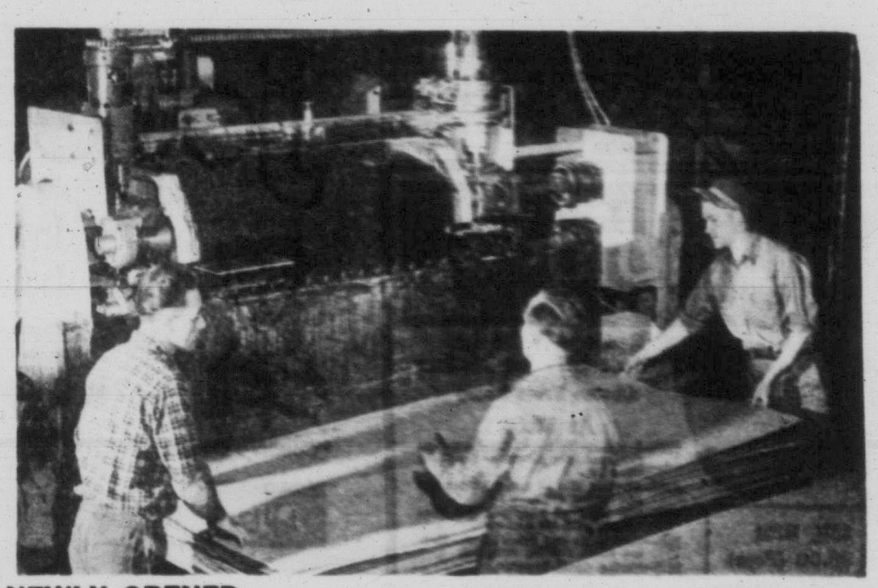
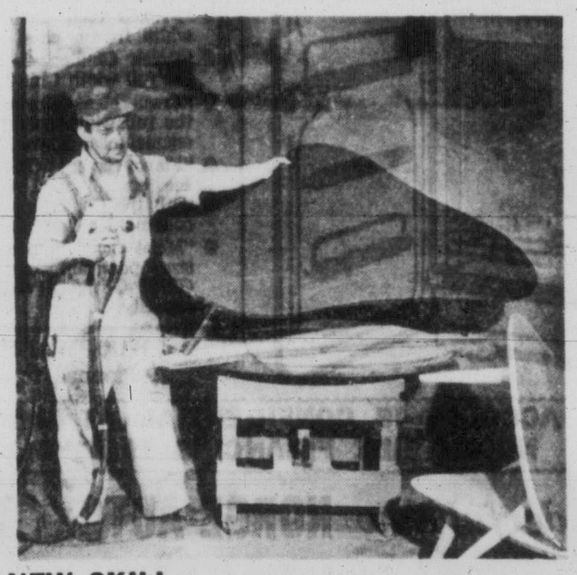
INTRICATE NETWORK of switching gear and transformers are integral unit in B.C.E. power distribution system for Lower Island industry and homes. Equipment above is part of over $5,000,000 investment here in recent years to make certain that electric energy will be available for every requirement.

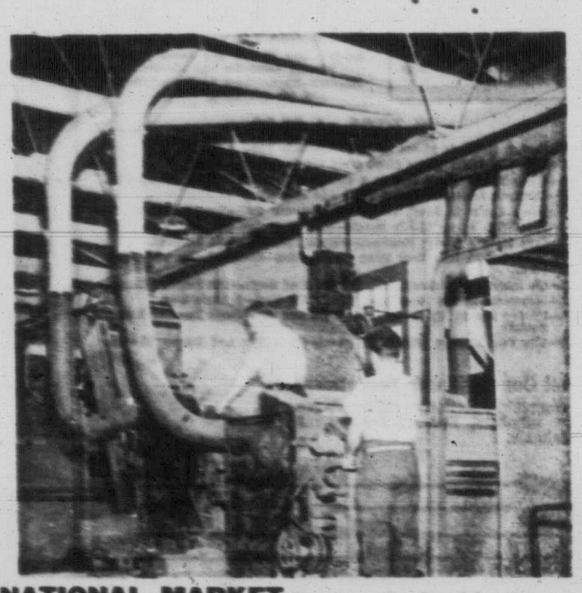


NEWLY OPENED Excellent example of secondary industry is modern new plywoods division, installed in Victoria by British Columbia Forest Products Ltd. in conjunction with extensive expansion program. Utilizing a basic product, the plant operates several shifts, creates a substantial payroll.

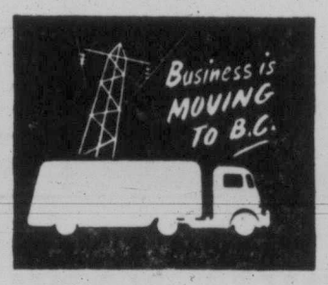


NEW SKILL Many new businesses are being created. There is a sensible trend to making in B.C. more of the goods we use. Take furniture, for example, Earle A. Morrison Ltd., a new Victoria firm, manufactures attractive contemporary furniture and commercial furnishings equipment that finds a ready market.

NEW FACTORY Victoria plant, established by W. R. McCurdy, manufacturing nylon hosiery, is only one of its kind west of Ontario. Creating new payroll, the hosiery is sold throughout B.C., will soon be introduced to other markets.



NATIONAL MARKET has been developed by Columbia Carpet Company Limited for its made-in-Victoria wall-to-wall wool carpet, Woolpod rug cushion, insole felt and various commercial and industrial felts.



A PREDICTION THAT PAID OFF—At the war end B.C. Electric embarked on a large-scale campaign to attract industry here to take up the slack when war work ceased. The story of our attractions for industry was published in leading publications throughout Canada, U.S.A. and abroad.

We are glad that we were able to play a part in laying the foundations for today's development.

B.C.E. EXPANSION AIDS SECONDARY INDUSTRIES

As an indication of how B.C. payrolls are growing, B.C. Electric wages, salaries and other employment costs have tripled since 1939, the last pre-war year. ($5.95 million then; $17.71 million in 1951).

In the last five years the company has spent $136 million to expand and improve services; will spend $36.6 million this year.

In making its purchases the company follows a policy of buying in B.C. first, wherever reasonably possible.

By working closely with various industries during our expansion program we have had built in B.C. many items that formerly were not made here. Turbines for generating plants, steel towers for transmission lines and steel poles for supporting trolley wires are samples of products that have, for the first time, made important contributions to B.C. payrolls.

Nearly 100,000 Living on Roots

PUSAN, Korea, May 9 (AP)—Nearly 1,000,000 persons are reported existing on "grass roots and the bark of trees" in Southwest Korea. Government sources said that Kyongsan province was hardest hit by last year's drought which, combined with the war, has left South Korea facing an unprecedented rice shortage. Rice price, tripled in three months, is $16 for 30 pounds.

Ontario Hardrock Miners to Kitimat

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., May 9 (CP).—Twenty-two skilled rock tunnelmen—the second group in a week—left here Thursday to fly to Kitimat, B.C., scene of a huge Aluminum Co. of Canada development.

They expect to be employed to drive a tunnel 11 miles long and 22 feet wide to supply water to a large hydro-electric power project at the site. The men left here by bus and boarded a special plane at North Bay.

Fourteen men left in the previous group and William Ramsay, manager of the national employment service here, said that about 150 hardrock miners from northern Ontario and northwest Quebec have gone to the project during the last five months. He expected a continued demand.

B.C. Natural Gas Reserves May Be Huge

Long-Term Operation At Fort St. John

VANCOUVER May 9 (CP)—An offical of Westcoast Transmission Co. and Pacific Petroleums Ltd, said Thursday that within six months enough natural gas reserves may be proven in British Columbia's Fort St. John area to supply all pipeline needs of the province and estimated exports to Washington State.

Norman Whittall, speaking before the annual meeting here of the Pacific district of the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada, said total gas reserves in the B.C. section of the gas and oil-producing area will be known fairly accurately when wells in the outlying areas have been completed.

"This is not a short-term operation," he said. "We are trying to prove a natural gas reserve in B.C. of from two to five trillion cubic feet of gas."

This We Believe–

A Statement of Principles on the June 12 Liquor Plebiscite

The voters at the provincial election on June 12 will be asked to vote on this question in a province-wide plebiscite:

ARE YOU IN FAVOR OF THE SALE OF SPIRITUOUS LIQUORS AND WINE BY THE GLASS IN ESTABLISHMENTS LICENSED FOR SUCH PURPOSE?

YES [X] NO [ ]

We believe the answer from the citizenry should be a resounding "YES!"—we believe our liquor laws in B.C. are antiquated and poor—we believe liquor by the glass should be approved; and these are our reasons:

OUR LIQUOR LAWS NEED TO BE MODERNIZED:

THEY ENCOURAGE LAW-BREAKING by forcing the average citizen who wishes a glass of wine or a cocktail or highball with dinner in a public place, to have them surreptitiously and in violation of the law.

THEY TEND TO CORRUPT YOUTH, because they expose young people to the example of adults winking at or actually taking part in violating the law.

THEY IMPOSE UNFAIRLY UPON PUBLIC OFFICIALS by requiring them to administer and enforce unpopular and unworkable laws.

THEY ADVERSELY AFFECT TOURIST TRAVEL by denying visitors the hospitality offered by other Canadian provinces and by the neighboring states of Washington, Idaho, and Montana.

THEY ARE DISCRIMINATORY because they (a) permit one class of persons—the members of private clubs—to purchase wines and liquor by the glass, but forbid others to do so; (b) similarly, they permit one very limited type of establishment—the private club—to sell wines and liquor by the glass, but forbid other eating establishments with which the clubs compete to do so.

LIQUOR BY THE GLASS SHOULD BE APPROVED:

IT PROMOTES TEMPERANCE by making it unnecessary to buy a whole bottle in order to have one drink.

IT REDUCES LAW-BREAKING by eliminating washroom drinking, reduces hotel-room drinking, and wipes out the bottle-under-the-table evil.

IT MAKES POSSIBLE SERVING LIQUOR AND FOOD TOGETHER, conceded by everyone to be one of the most temperate uses of spirits.

IT REMOVES THE PRINCIPLE SOURCE OF INCOME FOR THE BOOTLEGGER and other shady characters in the illegal traffic in liquor.

IT RAISES STILL FURTHER THE STANDARDS OF MEALS AVAILABLE TO THE PUBLIC, by providing eating establishments with an additional volume of business.

FOR ALL OF THE ABOVE REASONS, IT WILL RESULT IN BETTER COMMUNITIES in which to live and to rear families.

★ The government has stated its intention "to set up a consultative committee, comprised of a cross section of community life" after the plebiscite, to study the problem and make recommendations to the legislature on changes in the liquor regulations. But that consultative committee needs a "Yes" on the principle expressed in the plebiscite, to guide it in working out the details in the public interest.

We invite every citizen who is interested in community improvement, to join us in this effort toward a better, saner system for the sale of liquor. No obligation. Phone your name and add it to the growing list of active supporters.

Yanks Again Humbled By Rampaging Tribe

A month ago it was said Cleveland Indians couldn't capture the pennant until they learned how to win at Yankee Stadium. Well, they seem to learn fast.

Not since 1947 had the Indians swept a series in New York Yankees' home park until they humbled the world champs Thursday, 12-5, for a third straight.

The Yankee Stadium jinx, the Vic Raschi hex, the Eddie Lopat whammy all went out the window in this first New York-Cleveland series of the season.

Raschi got his lumps Wednesday and Lopat his Thursday when the Tribe's new clean-up man, Ray Boone, struck the big blow of the game, a three-run homer in the fifth.

Bobby Feller was the winning pitcher as the Tribe finished its first eastern trip with a fine 7-3 record. But Feller needed help from Bob Lemon. The Yanks nicked Feller for 12 hits in 5 2-3 innings. Lemon gave them only one the rest of the way—a ninth-inning homer by Gene Woodling.

BOSOX BEATEN

Winging home after its successful tour, the Indians are only 18 percentage points behind the leading Boston Red Sox.

Chicago White Sox salvaged the finale at Boston, 4-2, on Saul Rogovin's five-hit pitching. Ed Stewart's two-run homer off loser Ray Scarborough in the seventh was the crusher, ending the White Sox's six-game losing streak.

RIVERA SNAPS SLUMP

Big Jim Rivera, St. Louis Browns' slumping rookie flash, snapped out of it with a ninth-inning home run that beat Philadelphia, 9-8. Rivera, benched for weak hitting, got into the game just in time to make a sensational catch in the sixth. Then, with old Satchel Paige flim-flamming the Athletics, Rivera reached Carl Scheib for the winner.

Washington Senators struggled 11 innings to a 4-4 deadlock with Detroit Tigers in a "suspended game" that will be completed May 31. Play was halted after the 11th to let the Tigers catch a train for home.

Dave Koslo continued his mastery over St. Louis Cardinals as New York Giants tightened the National League race with a 3-0 win. The defending champs now are only 28 percentage points behind Brooklyn Dodgers who were idle.

GIANTS HOT

The surging Giants rushed through their first western trip with a glittering 9-1 record. They have won 13 of their last 15 games.

On the OUTDOOR FRONT

By ROY THORSEN

"Why hasn't a game warden been delegated to cover Cowichan River and nail those fellows still using crayfish?"

That was the big question today from Victoria's ardent fly-fisherman Russell Ker, who, with other veteran sportsmen, see this type of individual as a big danger to the river.

Live crayfish or live fish for bait has been put on the illegal lure list.

"Unless they clamp down on the crayfish user the river will be murdered," said Ker, who can remember the days long ago when fish-egg anglers cleaned the river of fish.

"It's the finest fishing water we've got on this end of the island," he declared. "A warden, not one in uniform, but attired as a fisherman should patrol the river and nab every one of the offenders he can lay his hands on," said the irate fisherman.

Thorsen

Ker and a companion fished the upper reaches some days ago. They got no response to their fly offerings from below. "But then a couple of fellows in a boat using crayfish moved in and, in not time, boated four nice trout. We did not congratulate them," he said, with disgust in his voice.

I also understand that a local sporting goods store refused to display a big batch of trout taken from the river as an illegal lure was suspected.

Veteran fly fishermen here say that lower island fly fishing is definitely off at this time, due to the cold snow water pouring into lake and stream.

"But there were some nice catches of trout taken this week in Shawnigan on the orange flatfish," said Roger Monteith.

"You never seen a person work so hard for the Solarium as this man Wes Fulton," declared Harry Woolston to this reporter. They are feamed to pilot the squad promoting the 1952 edition of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers-Victoria Times benefit derby for the crippled kiddies' institution. It will be held in Saanich Inlet, July 27, with a wealth of prizes at stake for anglers and non-anglers.

Bluebacks are the most plentiful in the inlet at the present time. More springs are showing up in the catch lists. Thirty-two-year-old Don Gunn's 25-pounder topped the week's results. He couldn't qualify for a button because he neglected to get a V.S.I.A.A. membership before going out.

The Victoria Heglin Clan must have some special appeal to the inlet salmon. The fish just can't seem to resist their offerings. To prove the point, their recent scores follow: Cliff on two days, 13¾, 6½ lbs., two smaller, 8 blues; Sophia, Loren and Hugh, 14, 11½, 6½ lbs., four smaller and four blues (Loren got biggest and four others Tuesday).

"I was right alongside Cliff. I used the same lure as him, copied his every move. I wound up with two blues and his take was 13¾, 6½-pounders," said an exasperated George Douglas, anglers' secretary. Heglin is bossing this year's ladder derby.

Bruce Winsby, Victoria, is representing island sportsmen at Vernon game convention. George Stevenson, game department island inspector, is also there. "Everything's all set for the ladder derby," said Douglas. "The year book will be out in two weeks' time. Big interest is chiefly in that $2,100 Chris-Craft first prize this year with membership sales up 40 per cent over this time last year," he said.

Will Wilson, this year's chief of the anglers' association, who has been in Jubilee Hospital for some time due to a kick-back on a youthful ailment, is expected home by wife Violet Saturday or Sunday.

* * *

Joe Gibault of the new sporting goods store tells me that some (only a few) five-six-pound trout have been taken out of Cowichan Lake this week. He said that Bill Proteau and pal took steelhead and cutthroat out of a big pool near the mouth of Sooke River. Stan Williams, just back from a trip up-island, reports good runs of blueback off Nanaimo, Qualicum and Comox. "I saw Eilbeck Wilson (who has just opened a sporting goods shop in Nanaimo) who said he's never seen the beat of blueback fishing being offered there at the present time."

Besides the Dunn, Heglin catches, Goldstream waters also yielded as follows: A. C. Anderson, 16¼ lb., 2 blues; Sid Upton, 7 lbs., 2 blues; Mrs. A. Armstrong, 5½ lbs.; George Beale and party, 7 blues; Fred Curle, Pat McLean, 6 small springs, four blues; N. Dixon, 2 small springs, 2 blues; Mr. and Mrs. F. Sparks, Jack Sparks, 2 small springs, 5 blues, Jack later, 4 blues.

"A fair number of blues still being brought in here," said Brentwood boathouse operators, "but only some springs." Bill Huckin brought back a 14-pounder. Visitor Dr. Cecil Hayes, Ellinsburg, Wash., and partner caught six blues. Steelheads were reeled in by Bill Hopkins (10 lbs), John Bereniski (6 lbs), Dynes Atkinson (6 lbs.).

Dodgers Warned to Show More Respect for Umps

NEW YORK, May 9 (UP).—Dodger manager Charley Dressen disclosed today that he has been ordered by National League President Warren Giles to warn the Dodger players to "show more respect to the umpires."

Dressen said that the order, contained in a personal note from Giles to the Dodger manager, was the outgrowth of the Dodgers' "riding" of umpire Frank Dascoli during the game against the Cincinnati Reds in Cincinnati Tuesday.

Giles' note contained the warning to Dressen: "If you and your coaches are unable to control the players, the league will."

Giles, whose headquarters are in Cincinnati, was present at the game and sat in a box seat near the Dodger dugout. In the note, Giles said that he heard the Dodgers calling Dascoli abusive names.

"Jackie Robinson was particularly offensive," said Giles. Robinson was the only player whose name was mentioned in the note.

Both Dressen and Robinson denied heatedly today that the Dodgers' star second baseman called Dascoli names.

"Jackie is a good bench jockey, but he doesn't call people names," said Dressen.

One Dodger player, pitcher Chris Van Cuyk, was ejected by Dascoli for "bench jockeying" during the course of the game, which was won by the Dodgers, 5-4, in 10 innings. Van Cuyk was not playing in the game.

Millmen Score Second Victory

On season's play to date this year, the Senior A Men's Softball League has shown beyond a doubt that the calibre of the game has improved a great deal.

Pitching has contributed a major share to the improvement, and Thursday night's game between Chinese Students and B.C. Forest Products showed this was no exception.

Forest Products won 3-1, breaking a scoreless tie with three runs in the seventh inning.

Henry Wong, who journeyed down from Nanaimo for the game, had a one-hitter going into the top of the seventh when the roof fell in.

Mickey Smith opened with a walk. Gordy Jones followed suit. Then with the infield in tight for a bunt, George Brown crossed up the strategy with a line drive single to left-centre.

DISPUTED PLAY

Tommy Derr fielded the ball and rifled a throw to home plate. Gordy Chow, Students' catcher, grabbed it with his gloved hand. Smith came in standing up and appeared to run into the outstretched arm of Chow, but plate umpire Tommy Woods ruled the runner safe despite a short but sharp beef from coach Gar Taylor of the Students.

Herb Bates followed with another single to score the second run of the inning.

Gy Guest lined another single to centre to score Brown.

LOSES SHUTOUT

In the meantime, Guest continued to stymie the Students until the ninth inning when he lost his shutout.

Robinson beat out an infield hit, went to second on a wild pitch and stole third. After Tim Walker walked, Bernie Sam drove out a long fly to centre to score Robinson.

Walker, under the impression it was the third out, was doubled off first.

ROUTE GOERS

Victory was the second in three decisions for Forest Products, and it also marked the third straight game their pitchers have gone the route.

Guest gave up four hits, as did Wong, but Wong's main trouble was wildness. He walked five, two leading to his downfall.

Tonight's game at Central Park brings together Pitzer & Nex and Butler's Aces for their first meeting this year. Game time is 6.30.

Short score follows:

Wrestlers Show At Port Alberni

The regular weekly wrestling program at Victoria Ballroom has been cancelled tonight but will be resumed one week from tonight.

Promoter Nick Harris, together with five other local mat performers, are staging a show at Port Alberni tonight. Accompanying Harris are Chief Thunderbird, Ken Williamson, Tyke Myren, Benny Loughren and Roy Speller.

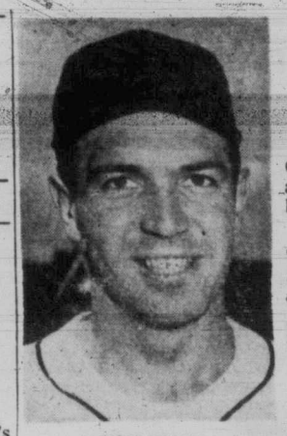
Turner Calls Meeting of All-Star Club

Wasting no time getting preparations away for the June 2 match with Tottenham Hotspurs, Dave Turner, manager of the Vancouver Island All-Star soccer team, has called the first meeting for his players.

All players selected to attend rep team workouts have been asked to meet at Macdonald Park Sunday at 1.30, prior to the Victoria United-San Francisco exhibition match.

Practises are expected to start next week.

Candidates for the All-Star team are Bill McAllister, John Moss, Glen Underwood, Bill Hope, John Pickburn, Joe, Sid and Jack Robbins, Ed Young, Harry Carruthers, Cedric Robb, Stan Bob, Wally Milligan, Bernie Clarkson, Den McGee, Ed Walters, Paddy Brown, Bill Walker, Alex Stewart, Gordy Pynn, Ken Griffin and Jack McIntyre. All are asked to attend Sunday's meeting.



DON PRIES

JOHN TREECE
. . . moves to third.

Saanich Hosts Elk Lake in Ball Opener

Five members of the Central Saanich Council and some lucky mother will be the guests of honor Sunday in the official opening of the Colwood and District Softball League at Saanichton Agricultural Grounds Sunday at 2.

Reeve Sydney Pickles and councillors R. Lamont, W. Michell, H. Andrew and H. R. Brown will officially open the season and a presentation will be made to a mother on Mother's Day.

In the first game of the season, Elk Lake and Saanichton of the Senior C. League will tangle.

Sooke will host Langford Sunday night at 6.

Infield Changes Made; Young Pitcher Signed

In his quiet but authoritative tone, Tyee manager Cec Garriott laid down the law to his players Thursday night after their scheduled game with Vancouver Capilanos had been postponed because of wet grounds.

Highly disappointed and obviously dissatisfied with the performance of the team in the Vancouver series which saw the Tyees drop three straight games and lose their first place standing. Garriott delivered a stern ultimatum—"Produce or else."

And to back up his words, the new manager engineered a shake-up which he hopes will tighten up the defensive play of the team—the main cause of Garriott's displeasure in the Vancouver series.

The new unit will see action tonight in the first of a four-game series at Wenatchee.

Only first base remains unchanged in the infield, Chuck Abernathy remaining there.

CLARK AT SHORT

Little Jim Clark, who had one of the best fielding records in the league last year, will return to his shortstop position with Granny Gladstone moving out to right field.

John Treece, normally an infielder but who has been playing in right field, will be brought in to third base and Don Pries will move to second base. Lu Branham, regular second sacker since the start of the season will be benched.

Gladstone and Treece will be returning to their first loves. Gladstone was a regular in the Portland Beaver outfield last season while Treece was chosen all-American third baseman in the national semi-pro tournament in Wichita.

Clark will likely replace Branham as leadoff man in the batting order.

WILBURN RELEASED

Two personnel changes followed hard on the heels of the shake-up as the Tyees released one player and acquired another.

Catcher John Wilburn, who has been bothered with a sore arm, was given his unconditional release and was immediately signed by Vancouver. Wilburn originally came from the Caps in a trade for pitcher Jim Hedgecock.

The new player is Len Chenard, a 19-year-old right-handed pitcher, who had been released by the Capilanos.

The Tyees ran into a transportation snag late last night and did not leave for Wenatchee until midnight.

A bus strike in the U.S. forced the team to obtain their own bus in Vancouver and they will use it until they return home one week today.

BRUNSWICK RETURNED

Capilanos received further strengthening with the announcement that outfielder Gordie Brunswick was being returned to the club from Seattle.

A limited service player, Brunswick batted .301 with the Caps last year.

BEARS, BRAVES WIN

In the only two games permitted by weather conditions Thursday night, Yakima Bears edged Salem Senators 6-5, and Tri-City Braves nipped Wenatchee Chiefs by the same score in 11 innings.

Yakima trailed by one run in the ninth but two walks, an error on Dario Lodigiani's bunt and two more walks forced in the tying and winning runs.

Tri-City shortstop Des Charouhas tripled in the 11th inning and scored on an error for the winning run.

EIGHTIETH ANNIVERSARY

City Cricket Away Sunday

Cricket in Victoria is 80 years old this year and the six clubs in the Victoria and District Cricket Association are unanimous in their determination to capture the league championship on the occasion of the important anniversary.

Three games this week-end gets the league away on its official start and play will continue on Saturdays and Sundays through to September 20.

Added to the league schedule will be two test games between select Victoria teams and the annual Victoria vs. Vancouver game July 1.

This week-end it will be Oak Bay and Five C's in the feature tilt at Windsor Park Saturday at 2.30.

Oak Bay reigns as defending champion this year. Five C's were runners-up, finishing close behind the Oak Bay side.

In the other Saturday game Alcos will travel to Duncan to meet Cowichan at the same time.

On Sunday at 2.30, Albions and University School Incogs will meet at the Beacon Hill oval.

All games this year will be played at Beacon Hill, Windsor Park, Duncan or the University School pitch.

ANDERS OPTIMISTIC

Association president W. B. "Bill" Anders is confident that the 1952 season will overshadow all others.

He said, "I am positive that a much higher standard of cricket will be in evidence this season. It has been improving every year and the match with Marylebone last year pepped the game up more than anything has done in years."

ALBIONS STRONG

Anders went out on a limb and gave his preseason prediction of the league race. While he did not pick the winner, he said: "We'll just say that the team that beats Albions will be the team that wins the league."

Albions rate as the most improved team in the league this year as they have added several new and valuable players in their effort to take the coveted league championship.

One familiar face that will be missing around the pitches this year is that of Ted Parkins, who has left the city to take up an instructing job in a boys' school in the east. Parkins' steady wicket-keeping and power at the bat were a strong feature in the Oak Bay organization for years and were two good reasons why Oak Bay won the championship last season.

Robinson Paces Field In Prep Meet

Weather conditions kept down the chance of new records Thursday in the opening of the Victoria High School inter-house track meet but it did not stop George Robinson from putting on a great one-man show.

Robinson picked up firsts in the junior boys' broad jump and discus throw for 10 points to give his House IV a 20½-point lead over House II in the field events.

Defending champion House I is in third place with 39 points while House III trails with 17 points.

Main track events will be run off Wednesday while competition in the field events continued today and will finish Saturday.

Jim Kennett and Ted Whan hung up the most impressive wins, Kennett clearing the senior boys' hurdles in 18.3 and Whan recording a senior boys' broad jump mark of 20 feet 4¼ inches.

Results follow:

Times for today's field events follow: 3.30—Junior boys' high jump, junior girls' broad jump, intermediate boys' shot put.

FISHING REPORTS

Fresh water fishing reports as told by Island game gardens:

LOWER ISLAND

Shawnigan Lake—Good on troll, orange flatfish. Wolf, Kemp Lakes—Fair on troll and fly. Grant, Matheson Lakes—Fair on troll. Big and Little Thetis, Elk, Prospect, Beaver—Fair fishing.

SALT SPRING ISLAND

Cusheon and St. Mary's Lakes—Fair trout fishing.

DUNCAN AREA

Weather against fishing. Improvement when things warm.

NANAIMO

Trout fishing fairly good throughout area. Good catches have been taken in Nanaimo, Westwood and Brannon Lakes and lakes in the Blackjack area.

ALBERNI

Sproat and Loon Lakes—Fair on fly and troll. Great Central Lake—Fair on troll. Dog Lake—Fair on fly. Rivers range from fair to poor.

COURTENAY AREA

Puntledge and Oyster Rivers—Fair in lower regions. Tsolum River—Good for trout. Tsable River—Fair for trout at mouth, same for Big Qualicum River. Wolf Lake—Good for troll and worm. Horn Lake—Fair on troll.

Estuary fishing for sea trout, using silver-bodied fly, generally good. "Courtenay made up with the union of the Puntledge and Tsolum are still the best bet."

P.S.—Good springs being taken in these waters now.)

CAMPBELL RIVER

Trout fishing has dropped off due to cold weather, but warmer weather should improve things.

FAMOUS HOOP COACH, PERCY PAGE, TO RETIRE

EDMONTON, May 9 (CP).—J. Percy Page, the man who coached Edmonton Commercial Grads to four world basketball championships, has announced his retirement.

Mr. Page celebrates his 65th birthday next Wednesday and at the end of June will retire after 40 years' continuous service with the Edmonton Public School Board.

Back in 1914, a group of high school girls wanted to start playing a new game called basketball. They asked their teacher if he could coach them.

"Well, I'll give it a try," Mr. Page said, and the Grads were born. In 25 years they played 522 games, won 502 of them, traveled more than 125,000 miles and took the official world championship at four Olympic Games.

United Plans No Changes For San Francisco Match

The San Francisco All-Stars will run into the same Victoria United Sunday that teams in the Coast Soccer League have been bouncing off since the start of the second half of the season.

Following their regular Thursday night workout, club officials announced that no change would be made in the line-up for the all-important match.

Bill McAllister will be in goal with Bill Hope and Joe Robbins guarding him from fullback berths. On the half-line, Sid Robbins will be between John Pickburn and Jackie Robbins.

Cedric Robb and Bernie Clarkson will start at the wings, with Stan Bob and Den McGee at insides and Wally Milligan at centre forward.

Reserves named are Frank Lohner, Noel Morgan and Jack Strachan.

The match may turn out to be the most important exhibition ever played in Victoria as it could be the forerunner of a Pacific Coast Soccer League made up of Victoria, Vancouver, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle.

A vital factor will be the response of the fans towards Sunday's game. A $500 guarantee has been promised the touring club and the total will have to be made by collection as admission cannot be charged on Sundays.

ATTRACTIVE HELP

United president George Eade has enlisted the aid of a corps of attractive female collectors to help fill the kitty.

It is hoped that Andy Pollock's Scottish pipe band will lend their own color to the game.

American Consul F. W. Hinke will make the official kick-off to open the game.

BASEBALL PRACTICE

Yarrows of the Senior Amateur Baseball League will hold a workout at the upper Beacon Hill Park diamond Saturday morning at 10.30.

SALMONACS IN CONVINCING VICTORY

Pilseners Suspended Indefinitely

VANCOUVER, May 9 (CP).—Vancouver Pilseners Thursday were suspended indefinitely by the Inter-City Lacrosse League Commission for carrying the name of their sponsor on their sweaters.

The Vancouver squad, which went to the Dominion senior lacrosse final last year as the Combines, is sponsored by the Vancouver Brewing Company. Pilsener beer is one of the company's products.

The commission had warned the team it might be suspended unless it took the name "Pilseners" off its sweaters, but Vancouver took the floor again Thursday night in the same gear, losing 20-8 to New Westminster Salmonacs.

It was considered probable that the Vancouver team would give in hastily to the commission order.

Commission president Les Gilmore announced the ruling after Vancouver had absorbed its second straight lacing before 900 New Westminster fans.

"The league forbids the use of a liquor in the team name and on their sweaters," Gilmore said.

"The bond which Vancouver posted has been forfeited to the league and they have been suspended until another bond is posted and their sweaters and name are changed."

Each team is required to post a $100 "good-faith" bond with the commission. The suspension went into effect following the game. Vancouver's next scheduled game is against North Shore Indians next Tuesday.

"Before Vancouver is accepted back into the fold, their new team name and sweaters have to be approved by the commission," secretary Tom Gordon said.

It was not known whether the company would withdraw its sponsorship of the Vancouver team.

Club executives Len Webb and Bert Halliday will confer with company officials today.

Vancouver was given until Sunday to make a decision.

As for the game, the teams were tied 3-3 after the first quarter but Salmonacs pulled into a 10-5 lead at the half and turned it into a rout in the last half.

Art Pruden led New Westminster scorers with four goals. Elmer Buchanan topped Vancouver's feeble effort with two.

Cost, Not Malice, Cause For Fire Hall Closure

Skillings Claims His Arguments Misrepresented

Denial of "malice" or "vindictiveness" in closure of the Yates Street fire hall was voiced by Ald. Waldo Skillings in a statement to City Council Thursday.

Several times during his presentation Mayor Claude Harrison called the alderman out of order.

The mayor contended the alderman rose on question of privilege and should confine himself to a reply to any personal attack that might have been made on him.

Ald. Skillings said it was not a personal attack but he was replying to criticism that he was letting firemen go and prejudicing the city's safety.

"Were you misrepresented?" asked the mayor.

"Yes," replied the alderman.

The mayor then let him proceed but a little later on remarked: "You must really keep to the point."

PUBLIC BUSINESS

Ald. Skillings said he felt elected representatives had every right to discuss matters of public business in a public way.

Outlining history of the fire department, the alderman said four halls had been closed in the past "to the same hue and cry as we have today, but the closures were made.

"I submit this council and previous councils took the action they did in the public interest."

He said of a proposed budget of $493,700 for the department this year, salaries and wages totaled $397,500. Deducting water charges of $31,100, he said $65,100 was left for new equipment and other expenses.

A first class fireman, he said, gets basic pay of $304; but "fringe" benefits—stripe pay, superannuation, holiday pay, workmen's compensation and telephone allowances—bring it to $346.

He said there were 76 men in 1930 when firemen worked a 72-hour week. At January 1, 1950, there were 98 men on a 48-hour week.

WAGES BIG ITEM

"Fire protection will cost every man, woman and child in Victoria $10 apiece," he said. "Over 80 per cent of our fire service is wages. I felt I had no alternative but to recommend a reduction of staff."

Competent authorities, he said, felt council's plan will give "citizens fire protection commensurate with our needs."

Offer of the B.C. Electric to sponsor a series of summer concerts in Beacon Hill Park was referred to the parks committee.

CITY TO SEEK FACTS ABOUT PUBLIC WORKS

A fact-finding study as first step in a survey of the public works department was approved by City Council Thursday.

It approved also appointment of W. N. Jorgensen to undertake groundwork of the study under direction of City Manager Cecil Wyatt.

The latter recommended the appointment. Mr. Jorgensen, a civil engineer, was previously employed in the city building inspection department.

The entire survey will take several months, according to the manager. He said it should "not be anything less than a very complete study made of all branches of the department."

Victoria Asks Why Bus Fares To Be Upped

City council approved a public works committee recommendation Thursday calling for an appeal to the provincial cabinet for written reasons on the recent B.C. Electric Railway Co. bus fare increases.

The solicitor was instructed to appeal for reasons on which the Public Utilities Commission bases its argument for granting increased fares.

The city advised authorities at St. Joseph's Hospital that it is not legally possible for public works to do paving work on private property.

The Sister Superior asked the city to undertake paving the front entrance and adjacent areas, in view of the costly building recently erected. Cost would be $1,594.

Ald. Waldo Skillings said the city could not spend public funds for such a purpose.

Ball Park Quarrel May Force City Into Court Fight

City representatives will hold an "immediate conference" with officials of Victoria Baseball Co. over clean-up of stands at Royal Athletic Park.

The city contends the expense should be borne by the ball club and the latter argues it is up to the city.

At the same time city council agreed at Thursday's meeting to have the solicitor take action to recover the $4,821 owed the city by the ball club, if he felt a "reasonable length of time" had ensued from the city's last order.

On February 29, the city called for payment within "a reasonable length of time."

Ald. Waldo Skillings felt sufficient time had elapsed. Mayor Claude Harrison felt proceedings should be taken.

Parks Administrator W. H. Warren suggested the conference over the clean-up of the stands, and advocated going to court for legal clarification if necessary.

IMPASSE REACHED

"We have reached a definite impasse," he said. "The baseball association refuses to act in the matter."

Mr. Warren feared the park would be left in a "mess" for a Reserve Army personnel review May 13.

Both the building inspector and fire chief said present condition of the stands creates a fire hazard. They asked for action.

Mr. Warren advised council the city should also get acknowledgment for responsibility with regard to park damage "beyond normal wear and tear."

Ald. F. G. Mulliner and Ald. Arthur Dowell with City Solicitor Arthur Patton were named by the mayor as city delegates to the anuual meeting of the Association of V.I. Muncipalities at Nanaimo May 28.

'OLD SWEATS' MEET MAY 31

"Old Sweats" from the ranks of the artillery will hold a reunion to celebrate the 36th anniversary of their departure for overseas service in one of the messes in the Armories on Saturday, May 31, at 6.45 p.m.

The artillerymen are members of the 15th Brigade, C.F.A., who left here May 28, 1916. It is expected that 90 veterans from Salt Spring Island, Vancouver and up-Island points, will be here to join in the celebrations.

To assist in completing arrangements all members of the unit are asked to contact either of the following: President Ted King, Secretary Ralph Cruick-Shanks, Alf Dowell, Gordon Cameron, Tom Rickinson, Alf Luney, Percy Gilson or Archie Wills.

85-Mile-an-Hour Ride Brings Fine, Suspension

A commercial traveller who told Magistrate H. C. Hall a suspension of his driver's license would "cost me my job" was prohibited from driving for one month after pleading guilty in Saanich police court Thursday to a charge of dangerous driving.

Alfred J. Johnson of Vancouver was fined $50 on the charge, prohibited from driving for one month and allowed to drive for business purposes only for the next two months.

He told the magistrate he had had a governor installed in his car to limit the speed to 45 m.p.h. after he was paced by Constable Bob Adrian at speeds between 80-85 m.p.h.

Johnson said he was trying to catch a boat when he was stopped by Adrian.

Floyd Cordick, 3241 Maple, was fined $2 for failing to have a current driver's license.

Eric E. Smith, S.G.S. Stonetown, Esquimalt, was fined $35 on a charge of careless driving.

Fined for exceeding the speed limit were:

Cecil D. Anderson, 322 Amelia, $25; Adair B. Villier, S.G.S. Stonetown, Esquimalt, $30; Berton Large, 153 St. Lawrence, $25.

$1,025 Six-For-One Winner on CJVI

Winner of the largest jackpot in Six-For-One history is Mrs. J. G. Atherley of 344 Simcoe Street, seen receiving $1,025 cheque from Al Collins who made the winning phone call on the morning edition of Thursday, May 1. Mrs. Atherley is the mother of five boys and a girl. Three of the boys were in the services during the war. Bulk of the money won by Mrs. Atherley, an old-time-listener to Six-For-One, will go toward a pension fund assessment which came upon the family unexpectedly. Mrs. Atherley plans to continue listening to Six-For-One "just in case. •••

BUICK CUSTOM

It's a HONEY for the MONEY

Can you imagine this—

A car with Buick's power, Buick's size, Buick's room and Buick's big-car roadability—at a price down where anyone with the price of a new car can reach it?

How about coming in and looking it over?

Some things you'll need to see—such as the smartest new fabrics and interior trims that these swift beauties have ever offered.

Or a long list of new conveniences, developed by Buick's engineers this year.

Some things you'll need to try—such as Wide-Band brakes—new this year on the CUSTOM, and also on SUPER and ROADMASTER.

Some things you'll need to feel—such as the Million Dollar Ride, so called because it cost Buick this much and more in cold cash to perfect the 15 engineering features that give it a road-hugging smoothness—cushion your going like a million dollars' worth of velvet beneath the wheels.

Or the effortless ease of Dynaflow Drive.*

Some things you'll want to sample—such as the hoodful of power—the power of the mighty and thrifty Fireball 8 Engine—a valve-in-head that makes the most of high compression, gets good mileage from gas.

Some things you'll want to compare—such as delivered prices—and we believe you'll agree that from the viewpoint of downright value, this is the finest Buick ever built.

Our welcome mat's out. Why not come in soon and get set for a thrilling year?

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Festival Climax Reached Tonight

Three Champion Class to Be Judged; John Dunbar Festival Committee Guest

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Tonight, the successful third annual Victoria Musical Festival will reach a climax with three champion classes to be judged, several major awards to be made and some special features arranged.

John Dunbar, the popular Victoria baritone who was a finalist recently on "Singing Stars of Tomorrow," will appear as a guest of the festival committee, singing a group of solos.

By special request of instrumental adjudicator Vilem Sokol the City Schools Band, under leadership of R. E. Grant, will play selections for half an hour, commencing at 7.30.

AT FIRST UNITED

Championship trophies to be competed for include the B.C. Electric Rose Bowl and the City of Victoria Medallion. The regular program will begin as usual at 8 o'clock in First United Church.

Thursday evening's session saw Margaret Christison, contralto, winner in the Oratorio (Female) Class final. She received a total marking from adjudicator Burton Kurth of 172. Soprano Rosa Cooper was a close runner-up with 170.

In the Concerto (Open) Class, Marion E. Gibbs, playing the Beethoven D Minor, first movement, scored 87 marks, to win narrowly over Patricia Shakespeare, whose performance of the Schumann A minor brought her 85.

Theodore Normann commended both these young artists for their attainments in this most advanced pianoforte class.

BAGPIPE WINNERS

Medals were presented by adjudicator Donald Graham to three winners in the bagpipes classes. The Ian Duncan Medal for highest marks in the novice class went to Sheila Hope. The St. Andrews and Caledonian Society Medal was awarded to Jeanie Burns, and the Victoria Highland Games Association Medal to Priscilla MacNeil.

In Female Voice Choirs, Grade A, the sole entrant, Georgian Choristers, conducted by Mrs. Vera Barclay, were given the high marking of 171.

Choral Societies, Grade B, drew two out-of-town entries: The Choristers from Duncan and the North Saanich Musical Society from Sidney. The latter were the winners with 165 but the Duncan group came only one point behind.

Further results of Thursday's sessions follow:

Bagpipe Classes—Novice, open to any competitor who has never won a prize in any previous competition: Sheila Hope, 82. Amateur, under 14 years: Jeanie Burns, 162; Jamie Troy, 157. Amateur, open: Priscilla MacNeil, 172.

In the Instrumental Classes, Vilem Sokol awarded his highest mark so far to Victoria High School, in Senior High School String Ensembles. They received 92 marks for a Mozart performance.

In the Junior High School class, Central Junior High scored an 83. Brass Ensemble (unconducted): Victoria High School, 86. Woodwind Ensemble (unconducted): S. J. Willis Junior High School, 88.

Marion Barnum Shows Prodigious Technique in Arts Centre Recital

A fine taste with regard to things musical is being consistently demonstrated by the Arts Centre in its sponsorship in this division of the arts.

Marion Barnum, who appeared in recital at the Moss Street gallery Thursday, is a young pianist of brilliant gifts and unusual attainment.

Her program was individual and imaginative and presented with a style and personality that was warm, lively and natural. The range was wide, including Brahms, Mozart, Bartok, Ravel and Chopin.

She has a quite extraordinary technical facility and power. The Brahms numbers—Intermezzo in A minor and Capriccio in G minor—were sustained, the structure firm and clear and intellectually assured.

The lucidity of her Mozart playing is due to a firm rhythmic grip, a fine molding of phrase and a comprehension of the inherent sweetness and purity of the thematic content.

In presenting the 15 Hungarian Peasant Songs of Bela Bartok, Miss Barnum first explained the folk elements contained in these compositions, and demonstrated the themes and the harmonic structure.

The "Valse Nobles et Sentimentales" of Ravel was a lovely performance as far as clarity and shapely phrasing went. But the pianist did not quite achieve that remote, other-worldly quality, the singular delicacy that is demanded here. The general effect was somewhat matter-of-fact.

Similarly the Chopin numbers, while played with an admirable avoidance of sentimentality, leaned perhaps, a little too far from the spirit of romanticism, seeming just a shade dry.

In spite of her prodigious technique there was evidence of some instability, either of temperament or of physical control. But this is a factor which so gifted a pianist will inevitably overcome in time; just as time will mature the artist.

GEN. CRERAR AIDE TO QUEEN

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP).—General H. D. G. Crerar, one of Canada's most distinguished military leaders, has been appointed aide-de-camp general to Queen Elizabeth, Defense Minister Claxton announced Thursday.

The 63-year-old general, who commanded the first Canadian army in its Second World War European campaign, held the same honorary post under the late King George VI, Queen Elizabeth's father.

'Shop-Window' Army Lamented by Crerar at VE-Day Reunion Celebration

TORONTO, May 9 (CP) — A boisterous reunion of wartime army officers cheered Gen. H. D. G. Crerar Thursday night when he lamented the status of Canada's army of today as a "shop window" force inadequate to face major war.

The retired former commander of the First Canadian Army struck that sombre note at a dinner which drew more than 600 officer-veterans to honor him on the seventh anniversary of VE-Day, culmination of a war in which it was said his troops never once got an order to retreat.

Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, chief of today's army of 50,000 men, sat with a non-committal face as his old wartime chief was cheered from all sides in regretting that although "we have a display of quite attractive samples in our military 'shop window,' there is practically nothing behind that window display."

Twenty-four generals, some retired, some still in service, dozens of brigadiers and colonels, scores of majors and captains, people who came all the way from Vancouver to Halifax but mainly from Ontario, turned Toronto's Royal York Hotel into a temporary military headquarters for the dinner.

It was the biggest reunion of brass since the war and its informalities — reminiscing, tale-telling and repeated nostalgic routing of the enemy — went on far into the night. They called it "Exercise Eblow One" and its details were elaborate with corps patches and route signs, movies of the fighting, pictures of overseas scenes and "Herbie" cartoons by Bing Coughlin.

There were cheers at the dinner when a telegram of greeting was read from Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, first chief of the First Canadian Army, good-natured boos when tribute was paid Gen. Crerar for first advocating close-support bombing in infantry attacks, laughs when chairman Maj.-Gen. C. C. Mann went to unveil a portrait of Gen. Crerar and couldn't get the curtain to roll back. The portrait was presented to the honored guest.

Gen. Crerar in his speech struck the reminiscent tone which keynoted this whole night but he did move into serious ground once and that was when he made references which recalled his calls for compulsory training in the past.

This time he went so far as to say he is greatly worried because even with compulsory training it would be nearly the end of 1953 before Canada would be ready for major war.

Please don't call me "Hey, you!"

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Edward Flynn of St. Paul was telling the Rotary Club yesterday that it's about time we reformed our calendar.

I am all for changing the calendar.

Let us have more pay-days and less first-of-the-months.

Let us eliminate winter months and cut out all Mondays.

And—for old geezers like me—let us, by all means, get rid of birthdays.

☆ ☆ ☆

Speaking of birthdays—a very happy one to you, Wally Courtney of T.C.A.

☆ ☆ ☆

Sunday is the day dedicated to Mothers.

I am all in favor of this day, too, but something about it has always puzzled me.

The cartoonists, jokesters, and radio comedians don't dare make jokes about mothers.

But they make all kinds of jokes about mothers-in-law.

This puzzles me, because, to be a mother-in-law, a woman must be a mother.

At least, it appears that way to me.

So, when a cartoonist or a comedian makes a joke about a mother-in-law, he is actually making a joke about a mother.

And no cartoonist or comedian in his right senses would dare poke fun at the solemn wonder of motherhood.

Questions like that drive a man gray before his time.

☆ ☆ ☆

One of the women's organizations in town has its meetings in the evenings, and, as the affairs draw to an end, quite a cluster of husbands gather round the door of the hall, dutifully ready to drive their wives home.

(If you think I'm going to tell you the name of the organization, you'll be disappointed).

The other evening, the husband of a new member was standing near the door, peering in, looking the assembled ladies over with a critical eye.

A lady of somewhat majestic mein was reading a report, and the new member's husband nudged one of the old hands.

"Who's that?" he hissed.

"The corresponding secretary" was the whispered reply.

There was a moment's silence, and then the new memoer's husband whispered back "Corresponding to what? A mud fence?"

☆ ☆ ☆

A mother was strolling along Beach Drive the other afternoon with her daughter, aged five, when they passed a woman who was a stranger to the mother.

The little girl, however, greeted her with a smiling "hello" which was answered in turn.

A discreet distance farther on, the mother asked her daughter who that was, and her daughter said:

"I don't know. It's just a lady whose dog our Trixie knows."

☆ ☆ ☆

I see by the papers that the mayor and a good portion of the City Council are at sea today.

No comment.

Entry was made by breaking a glass pane in the back door. The prowler ransacked bedroom drawers in his search for money.

Puppy Prize In Solarium Name Contest

There is a very young lady in Victoria who has no name, and she is extremely tired of being called "Hey, you," or "Come here."

She's a cocker spaniel puppy, and she has made arrangements with the Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League to acquire a name.

The league has agreed to run a "Name the Puppy" contest on her behalf, and to choose the best name for her.

The person who submits the winning name also wins the puppy, and will be allowed to give her a good home and take care of her in general.

To win the puppy you must send your suggested name, together with a donation to the Solarium, to the Junior Solarium Office, Pemberton Building, Victoria.

The contest, to continue one month, is open to all—and incidentally, the Solarium will put your donations to excellent use.

20,000 See Arena Fair

The B.C. Products Fair has set a new attendance record.

Nearly 20,000 Victorians have jammed the Memorial Arena since opening night Monday to take a look at the more than 80 colorful exhibits—20 per cent of them agricultural.

The biggest and best fair the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce has yet staged in the past six years, the 1952 version includes a tremendous range of B.C.-produced goods from a $3,500 "dream kitchen" to a small, hand-operated tiller that can make fast work of digging up a garden.

There's a wealth of entertainment this year—from the high-flying "Daring Madisons" to the massed voices of the Rotary Boys' Chorus.

It took nearly eight months of planning by hustling Jaycees before the doors swung open Monday at 6 p.m. to show Victoria that British Columbia can produce a wealth of products.

Honey-making bees compete with rabbits, model trains compete with beautifully-wrought copper etchings and miniature rock gardens compete with delicate orchids for public approval.

At night, a bevy of pretty girls compete for the 'Miss B.C. Products Fair" crown.

Jaycee publicity chairman, Jack Neale, said today the top three contestants by public choice are "Miss Victoria Girls' Drill Team," "Miss B.C. Forest Products," and 'Miss Victoria College."

They lead in that order by a slight margin.

Final choice will be made Saturday night at 9 p.m.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Liberal candidate in Victoria, will fly to Nechako Saturday for the dedication ceremonies for the Kenney Dam. The dam is part of giant Alcan project.

LAW ENACTED TO PROTECT, NOT TO FINE

Suspended Sentence For Injured Driver

A woman motorist won a suspended sentence in police court today after Magistrate H. C. Hall told her counsel "she has paid a great deal more in suffering than this court could ever begin to impose."

He suspended a careless driving charge against Margaret J. Harris, 1249 Camrose Crescent, after hearing evidence from acting city prosecutor Gordon Poupore that the woman had spent a long period in hospital since her accident last December 17 and was still being attended by a doctor.

She was in collision with a car at Hillside and Quadra—damage to her own vehicle was $1,500 and her injuries included a fractured skull.

Law Arguments Slow Logger's Court Battle

A $28,729 damage suit against Edward L. Robson and the E. L. Robson Logging Co. continued in Supreme Court today with arguments over points of law slowing proceedings.

Only bright spots during this morning's hearing occurred during cross-examination of John F. Rumble, assistant forest ranger, by defense counsel W. H. M. Haldane.

Mr. Haldane wanted the witness to refer to a map without having the map entered as an exhibit. Tom Norris, Q.C., counsel for the plaintiff, George Lock, argued the map would have to be officially entered in the case if the witness was to make reference to it.

He said Mr. Haldane would have to go all the way with the map or not at all.

"My friend is caught on the horns of a dilemma," said Mr. Norris.

"I am not," declared Mr. Haldane. "I don't even know how many horns a dilemma has."

At another point in the cross-examination, Mr. Haldane questioned the witness as to what he meant by a "devil's club swamp," and was answered by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane.

"You'd know if you were ever in the woods." His Lordship observed. "A devil's club is a tall, wet thistle that hits you in the nose when you're not looking," the judge recalled from experience.

City to Hang Welcome Sign For Visitors

Victoria's famed flower baskets will be hung on the lamp standards June 8, Parks Administrator W. H. Warren said today.

Approximately 550 are now being readied at Beacon Hill Park, the same number as last year.

Tentative arrangements to extend the baskets on Government from Yates to Johnson have been cancelled as necessary funds were cut in estimates.

Boulevards throughout the city will be watered this year up to mid-June. Boulevards on main thoroughfares, however, will receive attention after that date, Mr. Warren said.

The department had to cut its boulevard watering this year by two-thirds but has received no complaints to date.

Duncan Car Dealer Cleared of Charge

DUNCAN, May 9—Cyril Pitt, Duncan automobile dealer, was acquitted by Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court here Thursday of a charge of false pretenses and intent to defraud to the extent of $550.

The charge involved a cheque for $550 given accused by Donald Grayson, Chemainus, for purchase of an automobile. The car had been repossessed shortly after the purchase by a Nanaimo finance company.

During the trial, which lasted nearly all day, no evidence was called by the defense, and there was no evidence that the accused had represented the car as being clear of encumbrance nor of the cheque involved ever having been cashed.

Highway Scales Plan May Check Overloads

Public Works Taking Steps to Prevent Flagrant Breaches of Tonnage Limits

In an effort to curb flagrant overloading of trucks, the provincial public works department is planning to install highway scales on the Island Highway in the Colwood vicinity.

Definite date for a start on the job has not been set, probably because it will depend on the route of the new Island Highway outlet from Victoria.

The scales, which will be stationary, would be situated adjacent to the highway so trucks could easily pull off the road's traveled portion.

The only set of government highway scales on Vancouver Island was installed at Parksville one month ago.

"The scales have shown us that there has been terrific overloading in that area," an official said.

A similar installation is being made at Koksilah, and two sets of portable highway scales are being purchased this year by the public works department. They will be moved all around the province.

Installation of highway scales in the Colwood area will almost wipe out any overloading in the Victoria area because a large majority of logging and lumber trucks enter the city from that direction.

The menace caused by these trucks has been the source of bitter complaints from residents. Lumber trucks, which have spilled their loads numerous times recently, are said to be the most dangerous.

'Write-Off' of Navy Stores Partly Due to Book Error

A "write-off" of stores totalling $39,234 during the past fiscal year at Esquimalt naval supply depot was reported to House of Commons defense committee in Ottawa Thursday.

Stock deterioration — through obsolesence and spoilage—and "deficiencies due to errors" were listed as reasons for the reduction in inventory appearing in the final audit.

Capt. C. J. Dillon of H.M.C. Dockyard supply depot explains that errors in terminology also affect the audit. The supply depot carries an inventory of about $10,000,000.

At Ottawa the defense committee received five documents tabulating losses at defense establishments during the past two years. E. B. Armstrong, assistant deputy minister of defense, said total losses at defense establishments are not out of line with other establishments holding stores.

Liberals Lead Nominations Race

Meetings Tonight at 8 P.M.

Social Credit rally, Marigold Hall. Candidates Ald. Donald Smith, E. D. McEwan and George Alexander will speak.

Saanich C.C.F. meeting, Brentwood Hall. Frank Snowsell, Saanich candidate, will speak.

Esquimalt C.C.F. meeting, Luxton Community Hall. Frank Mitchell, Esquimalt candidate, and Mrs. Percy Rayment will speak.

British Columbia's Liberal party is winning the race to nominate candidates in all ridings before the May 22 deadline.

The Liberals, who were slow in getting started, poured on a burst of speed last week and now have candidates in all ridings except one — Grand Forks-Greenwood. The vacancy is expected to be filled soon.

The four major parties are confident they will have candidates in all ridings. Organizers, however, admit it is difficult to find candidates in some of the remote ridings.

Next to the Liberals in the nomination race is the C.C.F. who have four ridings to go. The C.C.F. is using mail ballots in isolated areas. The Progressive Conservatives still have five ridings with no candidates. Social Creditters have candidates in 33 ridings.

Five candidates have been named by the Labor-Progressive Party in Vancouver East, North Vancouver, Nanaimo and Alberni. The Socialist Party of Canada, not to be confused with the C.C.F., has named two candidates in Vancouver Centre.

The Labor Representation Committee has named a candidate for Vancouver Centre, and its founder, Tom Uphill of Fernie, will contest that riding.

Several Independents also are in the field.

So, it looks as if Britisn Columbians will have well over 200 candidates from which to choose.

Progressive Conservative leader Herbert Anscomb, suffering from 'flu, was in a much improved condition today and traveled to Trail to fulfil his speaking engagement on his campaign tour.

Geoffrey I. Edgelow, Esquimalt Liberal candidate, has named Jack Rogers of Esquimalt his campaign manager and Alec R. Merriman of Langford Lake as his agent. Mr. Edgelow starts his speaking tour of the Esquimalt riding on May 19 when he will talk at Cobble Hill. Esquimalt Liberal campaign headquarters are at 1232 Esquimalt Road, phone numbers E 6342 and E 1169.

Yacht Club Sailing Season Opens

The little ships at Royal Victoria Yacht Club strain impatiently against hawsers and anchor chains as their owners give them a final check-over to make sure they are in perfect shape for the opening of the sailing season Saturday. Nearly all the boats have been in the water for some time, and the major work of spring refitting is complete, but the man who owns a little ship is never through with "spit and polish." R.V.Y.C.'s new season opens with a sail-past at 2.30 p.m. Saturday, and first races will be held on Sunday, for A and C class. (Times Photo)

Game Brings Big Business To Province

Licenses Multiply Quickly in 20 Years

Big-game hunting in B.C. is big business.

Nearly a quarter-million hunting and fishing licenses are taken out in a single year now, where 20 years ago there were only about 45,000.

There were 118 non-resident hunters working the woods in 1933, if license figures do not lie, and last year there were 3,395. Some of them pay $100 or more a day for guides and pack-horses.

As for fishermen, there were 1,109 non-residents in 1933 and nearly 28,000 last year.

The sixth annual game convention is in progress at Vernon where Game Commissioner James Cunningham has gone to congratulate sportsmen on their education campaign, which resulted in legislative approval of a financial program which will enable his department to plan long-range policies.

The game department's staff has risen from 79 to 94 since 1933 and appropriations from $193,428 to $615,858.

Game biologist Pat Martin of Kamloops is recommending an open season on hornless mule deer and moose. His discovery of dead fawns indicates deer are actually running short of food on winter ranges.

Since lack of browse was causing deaths of some of the fawns, the hunters might just as well be hunting the animals and reducing their numbers to a level where available food would be adequate, he holds.

Whole Trade Awaits Union Wage Decision

Members of at least eight Victoria unions representing the building trades are awaiting with interest the outcome of a special meeting of Carpenters and Joiners' Brotherhood, Local 1598, next Monday night.

At that time the carpenters will consider a recommendation of a conciliation board that wages be $2.10 per hour for the coming work year, and the stand of Victoria Builders' Exchange to pay $1.90.

Present rate of pay is $1.75.

Most building projects under way in the district, and which might be affected by a work stoppage, are government sponsored. They include barracks construction at Work Point and H.M.C.S. Naden, Mount View School, expansion of Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, and other national defense work.

"It's never been quieter in the last six years," one spokesman said. "Residential building usually makes up 68 per cent of all projects, but there is practically nothing at present."

Central Mortgage Rent Raise Not Anticipated

Most Victoria Leases Stand Until 1954, Despite Prediction of Corporation Head

No immediate upswing in rents is expected in Victoria for 166 apartments in eight buildings erected under a federal government plan.

This information came today from John McCulloch, branch manager of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

He was asked to comment on a report from Ottawa quoting D. B. Mansur, Corporation president, as saying 15,000 Canadian families occupying the apartments might soon be notified of a rent increase.

The plan came into being in 1948 and the three-year leases signed by tenants of the first apartments built are now nearing the expiration date.

In Victoria, however, the majority will not expire until 1954. The first will have been built three years in January, 1953, according to Mr. McCulloch.

"We have no indication of any immediate upswing," he said. "Apartments here rent from $70 to $95 a month."

MAXIMUM RENTAL

He felt they were carrying almost a maximum rental.

Mr. Mansur in the Ottawa report was quoted as saying some landlords indicated they planned to boost rents by 40 per cent or more.

It is believed this may apply to unserviced and unheated apartments of which many were built in Quebec and leased at fairly low rentals. Higher taxes and operating costs are reasons given by landlords for seeking a boost.

The corporation sets a maximum rental for the first three years. After that it sets a minimum.

Red Mill Scouts Find Talent in Odd Places; Discoveries May Cause Some People Red Faces

BY AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

"The Red Mill' is probably no brighter a shade of carmine than this writer's face at the moment! Several weeks ago I was asked to suggest a couple of smart boys to take the parts of the two American comedians in the Gilbert and Sullivan Society's Victor Herbert production.

Frankly, I didn't have a clue. And what happens? A couple of funny men pop up, right in my own front yard, so to speak!

Dave Stock (What's Your Opinion?) and Lance Whittaker (The Church Page) are—to me—surprise packets. Sitting in on a rehearsal a week or so ago, I watched with admiration while my fellow scribes threw themselves buoyantly into the characterizations of a stuffed-shirt Burgomaster (Lance) and a delightfully zany American tourist named "Con Kidder" (Dave).

His partner-in-crime — and such crime!—is "Kid Conner," slightly better known as Ed Cuppage. Together they succeed in fooling the Burgomaster, the Innkeeper (John Bray) and half-a-dozen other assorted characters—almost as completely as Dave and Lance fooled me by keeping their true talents hidden.

Who would have guessed, for instance, that Dave is a linguist? Seven languages! He has them right at his fingertips in the "The Red Mill." I hear our editors are thinking of hiring him out to Associated Press as an interpreter. After the three-night run of "Red Mill," of course.

On the other hand, maybe Dave should stay with show business. That way he can stop asking "What's your opinion?" The customers will give it to him for free!

Incidentally, there's nothing half-hearted about Lance Whittaker's Royal Theatre debut either. The role of the Burgomaster called for a fine set of whiskers and the best being none too good for the Gilbert and Sullivans, Lance took time out and grew 'em!

No crepe-hair imitation for our boy, Lance!

But I'm dying to ask him one question. After May 15, 16 and 17, what will be the fate of the Whittaker whiskers? Will they fall to the axe? Will they be preserved as a memento?

That, I suspect, will depend on the press notice Mr. Whittaker receives. He may want to keep them to cover his blushes!

SHOPPING GUIDE

Mother's Gift Needn't Throw You for a Loop!

By PENNY SAVER

When the hands of time point again toward Mother's Day, do you get a little perturbed over the problem of shopping for a gift for mother?

You do? Well, let's see if I can help you out a little bit.

You could make a visit to your favorite perfume counter. Perfumes and colognes always give a woman a new lease on life. As a matter of fact I've heard it said that perfume or a new hat does the same for a woman as three cocktails does for a man.

While you're in the vicinity you may want to look at dusting powder or talc. They make a lovely gift, too. A reasonable one at that. You can buy a really good dusting powder for $1.75 and talc for one dollar. In fact, I noticed a special offer of talc and toilet water for $1.75. It was a very well-known brand and the scent was heavenly.

Now here's a gift that you couldn't go wrong if you chose it. A nylon slip! They're loved by all women and would be particularly welcome on Mother's Day.

One special style that would be nice for mother had an embroidered bodice accented with scallops and a double flounce of nylon net at the hem. It came in white, pink or blue and the price tag was marked $7.95.

Keep reading, there's more yet!

If you wish the gift to be personal a fresh and crisp picolay dress may solve your problem. Surprisingly enough, they are only priced at $5.95 and are as smart as can be.

The dresses come in a variety of pastels and are attractively touched with floral applique.

Take a look around the house and if your mother hasn't a basket to carry her shopping in you'd be wise to choose the Italian straw baskets made gay with straw embroidered flowers on the side. Carefully woven handles make it ideal for her frequent trips to the store. This gift is $1.98.

Maybe you would rather buy a gift that your mother could use in the home.

If that is the case, how about the chromium-plated tea and coffee pots? They're insulated and have a removable cover so that they're easy to clean. The chromium is contrasted with cream enamel.

This wear also offers a hot-water pot and a cream and sugar that you could give as a gift at another time.

The tea, coffee pots and hot-water pots are $8.25 and the cream and sugar, $7.25 a pair.

Surely with all these suggestions accompanying your Mother's Day gift, it can't help but make her day a special one.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Cutting Hair Will Not Make It Become Thicker

Q.—"Is it true that if you cut your hair it will grow out thicker? I have also heard that the oftener you cut it the faster it will grow."

A.—I hate to disappoint you but both assertions are false. What you do to the hair outside the scalp can have no infuence on what happens to the hair that will grow out. One hair grows out of one hair root. These are under the skin. You can see what I mean.

Q.—"Will you please tell me if my measurements are correct? My bust measures 35 inches, my waist 37 inches and my hips 38 inches. My thighs seem larger than the rest of my body."

A.—You should lose an inch off the hips through exercise. Also take reducing exercises for the thighs. I have given such exercises recently in my column, so if you would like to have them send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet numbers three and four, in care of this newspaper.

Q.—"I am 12½ years old, five feet three inches tall and weigh 105 pounds. My bust measures 32 inches, waist 25 inches and hips 33 inches. What is wrong and do you consider me tall for my age?"

A.—No, I do not think you are too tall for your age. You are underweight, though, and I think a gain would fill out the bust and hips to more nearly match the waist. While you gain weight take waist reducing exercises and everything will even up.

Q.—"Without my bra I measure 34 inches but when I get it on I measure 38 inches. Would you say I have a 34 or 38-inch bust?"

A.—I would guess that you have a 34-inch bust but are wearing one of the bras which push you out in two points. Practically any woman measures larger with a brassiere on because the garment supports her and takes care of any sag. However, this does seem to be a big difference and I wonder if you measure yourself correctly, are fitted properly or wear the right style bra. I suggest that you be fitted by one of the women in a corset department who is trained to do this.

Flower Show — St. Mark's chancel guild, Ganges, recently sponsored a spring flower show. A tea was also held under convenership of Mesdames F. C. Turner and G. Bullock assisted by Mesdames J. Byron, W. H. B. Bradley, H. C. Carter, T. A. Millner, W. H. Balmer, J. Sturdy and G. B. Young. Mrs. A. B. Cartwright was in charge of home cooking stall assisted by Mrs. S. Bannister; and Mesdames C. Springford, H. A. Robinson and W. Hele, plants and flowers. Sum of $76 was realized.

CHIEF GUIDE DOES NOT PLANT TREES

It was arranged that Lady Baden-Powell would plant a tree at new girl guide headquarters Thursday evening following the opening ceremony. But the chief guide of all the world refused quietly and firmly.

She has a definite phobia about planting trees, she said. And then, in her own inimitable way, gave three reasons for this phobia.

In her deep friendly voice, she explained: "I get my hands dirty; I haven't got the figure for planting trees and there is always a photographer there to take my picture bending over; and the trees I plant never grow. Do you wonder I say 'no' to tree plantings?"

Mrs. Alan Morkill, an ardent amateur gardener who, it is reported, has a "green thumb," officiated for Lady Baden-Powell—and the tree was well and truly planted.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Miss Frances McIvor, bride-elect of this month, was honored recently at a tea in the home of Mrs. H. N. Walls, Foul Bay Road. Rooms were decorated with dogwood, tulips and narcissi. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage of sweetheart roses and lily of the valley. Guests were members of the City Hall staff.

Mr. James Helmcken and his bride, the former Miss Elspeth Ker, returned to Victoria earlier this week following their honeymoon at Carmel, Calif. En route to this city they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Robinson, Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Helmcken will leave Monday for Nanaimo, where they will make their home.

Mr. A. G. Barker arrived in Victoria on Thursday from San Francisco to spend the summer months. He is staying at the St. Mary's Priory Guest House.

Margaret Jenkins — Olympic Games coach Bruce Humber and Archie McKinnon will address the Margaret Jenkins Bank Street P.T.A. on Monday at 8 p.m. Annual elections will be held and refreshments served.

Lady Baden-Powell Says New Headquarters a Place to Make Friends

Untying a knot in a cord that looped across a bright blue door at new Girl Guide headquarters on Pandora Avenue, with the ease of a life-long member of the guide movement, Lady Baden-Powell declared the building officially opened.

At the 5.30 p.m. ceremony, Thursday, the chief guide of all the world expressed her pleasure in the new headquarters.

"It is a place for you to meet, to play, to learn, to enter into discussions, and, above all, to make friends," she said, "a central meeting place everyone will learn to call home."

Divisional Commissioner Mrs. Keith MacDougall introduced Lady Baden-Powell and in a short speech told of the seven years of effort behind erection of the new headquarters.

"A donation of $5,000 from a friend of the guide movement who wished to remain anonymous," Mrs. MacDougall reminded her listeners, "was the motivating force that started us on our final search for funds.

"The building you see today is the result," she concluded with a happy smile.

Following the ceremony, all those present made a tour of the stucco and natural wood building, with its spacious meeting hall, kitchen, cloakroom and office.

Final ceremony was planting of a flowering plum tree in front of the building by Mrs. Alan Morkill, member of the world committee.

Guide captain, Dr. Lucille Wilson was in charge of the guard of honor, formed of guides representing each company in the Greater Victoria division, Muriel Watt, Elane Jennings, Jean Webster, Mary-Anne Wood, Joanne Lauder, Joyce Waterman, Darlaine Dovey, Avis Murrant, Marjorie Fletcher, Marion Petter, Patsy Green, Sally Seymour, Joan Whitwell, Joan Lees, Judy Nicholson, June Rumsby and Brownie Gloria Daly.

Color party was composed of Sea Rangers Sheila Carsteins, the bosun; Frances Switzer, Jane Kinney, Gillian Neeshan and Pat Townsend.

Special guests included honorary district secretary commissioner Major H. B. Hunter, executive commissioner Freeman King and Cub leader Marjorie Gibbs from scout headquarters; district scout commissioner Estlin, Mayor Claude Harrison and Mrs. Harrison, district commissioners Mrs. E. W. Abraham, Mrs. S. C. Rogers, Mrs. Freeman King, Miss D. Stocken, Mrs. Aubrey Westinghouse, Mrs. J. D. Hartley, a visitor from Trail, B.C., and district commissioner for West Kootenay, Capt. Gladys Kirwin, and Guider Miss B. Morley.

Assisting at the three-planting ceremony were Mrs. H. Duften and Jacqueline McNeil, captain and a guide from First Esquimalt Troop.

Convention—Plans for a Northwest regional convention, to be held here in June, are being completed by Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi. New officers of the chapter are Mrs. A. J. Tullis, social sponsor; Miss H. McKee, advisor; Mrs. L. Jones, president; Mrs. J. B. Scoby, vice-president; Miss E. Prouse, recording secretary; Mrs. A. Porteous, corresponding secretary; Miss E. Welsh, extension officer. Mrs. M. Aldersmith, Mrs. R. Masters and Miss I. Gordon are city council representatives. The new executive was presented with corsages. Mrs. Tullis and Miss McKee received gifts in appreciation of their guidance during the previous year. The new vice-president presented Mrs. H. Helander, retiring president, with a gavel pin and a gift. Next meeting is on May 19, at the Douglas Hotel.

Regina Family Announces Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Thomson, Regina, Sask., announce the engagement of their only daughter, Ruth Perley Thomson, to John Alexander Clay, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Clay, Beach Drive. The marriage will take place in Westminster United Church, Regina, on June 7 at 3 o'clock, with Rev. J. Scott Leith officiating.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Mrs. Wallace Now Girl Guide

At the grand rally of girl guides and brownies in Government House grounds this week, Mrs. Clarence Wallace, wife of the Lieutenant Governor, was enrolled as a guide by Lady Baden-Powell, chief guide of the world. In the centre of a horseshoe, formed of guides of the Greater Victoria area, Mrs. Wallace repeated the promise with Lady Baden-Powell and became a member of an organization that circles the world. Standing with Lady Baden-Powell for the ceremony was Mrs. F. W. Midgley, area commissioner.

Reception for Young Pianist

An informal reception was held Thursday evening at the Art Centre to honor Miss Marion Barnum, young British Columbia pianist, following her recital in the auditorium hall.

Mrs. Elza Mayhew presided at the coffee table and assisting Mrs. Edward Seeley-Smith with arrangements were Mrs. Peyto and Mrs. Esme Davis. Miss Kate Ede did the floral arrangements.

Special guests at the recital and the reception included Miss Barnum's grandmother, Mrs. T. H. Calland, who came from Vancouver for the occasion. She has been the guest of Mrs. A. P. Proctor, Hampshire Road.

The young pianist's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Barnum, who have been living in Nelson, B.C., where Mr. Barnum was manager of a bank, are coming to Victoria to live within the next few months, on his retirement.

Miss Barnum is returning to the mainland this week-end but is expected to make her future home in this city with her parents.

Pre-Nuptial Parties

Miss Kay Keeble, bride-elect of this week, was honored at a linen shower Wednesday in the Davie Street home of Miss Audrey Hicks.

A decorated box topped with a miniature bride concealed the gifts and a corsage of gardenias was presented to the guest of honor. Her mother, Mrs. S. Keeble, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. C. Cameron, received pink carnations and iris.

Guests included Mesdames J. Lock, K. Steven, H. McGregor, R. Smith, D. McKenzie, Misses Doreen Richmond, Marlene Buckle, Pat Glover, June Grier, Marion Munro, Joyce Booth, Helen Price and Sheila Price.

Mrs. Cameron honored her future daughter-in-law at a tea Tuesday in her Craigflower Road home. Her daughters, Mrs. W. Duncan and Mrs. G. Smith, were joint hostesses.

Guests were Mesdames S. Keeble, J. Y. Margison, T. Nute C. D. Orchard, G. Christian, R. Redgrave, R. Sharpe, E. R. Mawle, W. Smith, R. Elphick, Misses E. Mawle, O. Wilson and M. Buckle.

For Mrs. Anscomb

Ladies of the Oak Bay Progressive Conservative Association are arranging a tea at the home of Mrs. J. Sutherland Brown, Bowker Place, on Friday, May 16, from 3.30 to 5.30, to honor Mrs. Herbert Anscomb.

A Yachtsmen's Dance

Saturday evening, after Commodore H. A. Wallace has taken the salute in a sail past to mark opening day, members of Royal Victoria Yacht Club will gather in the clubhouse at Cadboro Bay for an opening-day dance. Mrs. W. W. Findlay is in charge of arrangements, and Mrs. John Wallace is assisting with decorations and tables.

St. John Chief Coming

Miss Margaret McLaren, superintendent-in-chief, St. John Ambulance nursing division, with Miss Mary Acland, priory nursing officer, and Mrs. David Martin, British Columbia nursing officer, will come to Victoria Thursday and Friday next week on an official visit to St. John Ambulance headquarters here.

On Thursday evening a coffee party will be held in honor of the distinguished visitors at the home of Miss Gladys Hewlings, Lotbiniere Avenue, and on Friday evening there will be reception at headquarters following a meeting.

Reports Show Nursing Association Is Active in Province; Has Many Members

In her report at the annual meeting of the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia, in the lower lounge at the Empress Hotel today, Miss Alice Wright spoke of a new chapter organized at Dawson Creek, and the Cowichan-Newcastle chapter reorganized as three separate groups—Cowichan, Chemainus and Ladysmith.

There are now 34 active chapters in the association, Miss Wright said, with a total membership of 5,261. Of these 4,560 members renewed registration and 701 were newly registered.

Three hundred and sixty-six candidates sat for registration examinations in the year, 206 in September and 160 in January, the registrar reported, also 71 candidates wrote supplemental papers.

Ninety nurses have been prepared as instructors for the course on the nursing aspects of A.B.C. warfare and are giving the 12-hour service course to graduate and student nurses throughout the province, Miss Wright said. The course, she explained, prepared nurses for participation in all phases of civil defense health services.

A brief review of outstanding issues which brought the association into "close contact and mutual working relationships with other community groups and enterprises" was given by the president, Miss Esther Paulson.

These included the B.C. hospital insurance commission inquiry board for Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, Workmen's Compensation Act, civil defense planning in B.C., government committee on nursing, trade committee for the practical nurse course at the Vancouver Vocational Institute and advisory committee to the school of nursing at U.B.C.

"In addition to these activities your association had contact with the board members of hospitals and health agencies, giving many opportunities to interpret and clarify trends in nursing service and nursing education.

Registrar Miss Alice Wright; Vancouver, gives the year's figures.

"It is evident from this summary," she added, "that the R.N.A.B.C. is recognized as an authoritative source representative of nursing in this province and point up the need for active interest and sound knowledge of nursing affairs in local chapters and by individual members."

District reports from Central Interior, East Kootenay, Fraser Valley, Greater Vancouver, Kamloops-Okanagan, West Kootenay and Vancouver Island were heard.

This afternoon current events and development in nursing, provincial, national and international, were highlighted in the form of a news round up.

Miss Christine Charter was chairman and participating were Miss Lorna Horwood, educational curriculum sub-committee; Miss Frances Benedict, instructors' group; Miss Eleanor Graham, health insurance; Miss Thelma Strong, institutional nursing.

Miss Mae McKenna, labor relations; Miss Janie Jamieson, legislation; Miss Janet Pallister, public health nursing; Mrs. Dora Murray, industrial nurses' group; Miss Elizabeth McCann, public relations; Mrs. Beatrice Lane, private duty nursing, and Miss Alberta Creasor, registration.

The meeting continues on Saturday.

Salary Differential Should Be Revised

Function of placement service was analyzed by Miss Evelyn Hood, director of personnel services, in her report at the annual meeting of the R.N.A.B.C. in this city today as "to help nurses obtain the type of employment they desire and for which they are best suited and also to assist the community in obtaining adequate nursing service."

The greatest shortage of nurses at present, Miss Hood said, was in the northern sections of the province and there remains a demand for trained public health nurses and trained supervisors willing to go to smaller hospitals.

Four hundred and seventy-four nurses used private duty directories in 1951, 328 in Vancouver and 146 in Victoria.

In majority of hospital contracts, the salary of the new graduate with no experience is $215 a month, Miss Hood reported; with two or more years of nursing experience the nurse will start at $225 a month; should the nurse also have a post-graduate course in the department in which she is employed, her starting salary would be $235 and if the nurse is subject to on-call duty she will receive an extra $10 a month.

On the same scale starting salary of a head nurse would be $225.

"This analysis would suggest that the salary differential between the various categories of positions should be reviewed," the director pointed out.

Garden Theme Is Chosen By Toastmistress Club

Gay corsages at each place cover set the theme for the spring garden program of Victoria Toastmistress Club conducted by Mrs. A. Thompsett, president.

In introducing the theme, Mrs. I. Warren, topic mistress, spoke on "Earth," and then called upon other members to discuss the care and cultivation of various spring flowers. Those taking part were Mesdames M. Gunn, N. Smith, V. Carter and M. Naysmith, and Misses J. Dixon and R. Rodger.

Before conducting the speech program of the evening the toastmistress, Miss J. John, proposed a toast "To the Tillers of the Soil". In keeping with the general subject, four-minute talks given by Miss R. Rodger and Miss P. Kerr were entitled "Island Gardens" and "A Garden," respectively. Mrs. H. Simpson chose "Down My Garden Path" as the title for her ten-minute address, for which she was tendered a vote of thanks by Mrs. V. Carter. Two-minute impromptu subjects allotted were "Showers" to Miss J. Dixon; "Courage," Mrs. B. Bayliss, and "Faith," Mrs. M. Foxall.

The program concluded with a reading entitled "Blueprint for a Good Toastmistress Garden," by Mrs. A. Thompsett.

Critics for the evening were Mrs. V. Rayment and Miss J. Dixon, and the grammarian, Mrs. M. Pickell. Mrs. M. Naysmith, evaluator, awarded the spur for most improvement to Mrs. B. Bayliss.

Playground Budget Slash Won't Hurt City Supervision

Supervised playground service at Central and Beacon Hill Park this summer will be only slightly reduced from 1951, Parks Administrator W. H. Warren says.

Owing to the more than 50 percent slash in the playground budget, however, other areas will not fare quite so well.

They will have supervision two half-days a week, Mr. Warren said.

This may be augmented, however, by assistance from the Y.W.C.A. and whatever volunteer help is forthcoming from the districts involved, he added.

Supervised playgrounds will be operated at two new areas, Topaz Heights and Redfern Park, between Bourchier and Leighton.

Other areas will include James Bay, Burnside, Stadacona, Banfield, Oaklands and Hollywood Parks. In addition the usual instruction will be given in tennis and swimming.

Playground supervision estimates were cut from $5,898 to $2,775.

BRITONS HONOR 2 U.S. MOVIES

LONDON, (BUP)—Two American movies have won "Oscars" presented by the British Film Academy for outstanding films of 1951.

The "Oscars"—bronze statuettes designed by modern British sculptor Henry Moore—were presented Thursday night by actor Maurice Evans at the Marble Arch Odeon Theatre.

Walt Disney's animal film "Beaver Valley" won the prize for the best documentary, and the American cartoon film "Gerald McBoing-Boing" got top place in a special award division.

The French film "Laronde" was named the best film from any source. The best British film of the year was "The Lavender Hill Mob."

Oils, Metals Gain Checks Toronto Drop

TORONTO, May 9 (CP).—Industrials drifted downward today toward the stock market's close. Steady support checked an abrupt decline in western oils and base metals.

Industrial dealings spread slightly from leading issues. A few lower-priced base metals, western oils and secondary golds but most turnovers were moderate. Volume for the session was about 2,429,000 shares.

Utilities and refining oils led industrials lower with a scattered list of fractional declines. Steels and textiles also slipped but retail stores and agricultures drew firm support. Papers, constructions foods, banks and manufacturing companies were mixed.

Western oils showed little trend in mixed dealings. New Superior was strong in active trading.

Base metal leaders made little headway. Waite Amulet climbed strongly.

Senior golds held gains and losses in balance. Changes were small. Secondary issues eased.

New York Off In Slow Trade

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP).—Trading in the stock market slowed down to a walk today and prices milled around uncertainly.

Changes throughout were narrow.

Selected rails and oils at times gave a little show of strength to the market but that influence didn't last long.

Trading came to an estimated 1,000,000 shares.

Shell Oil gained around three points at times after the company announced its new well in the Glendive field in Montana's Williston basin made the best initial showing in that area.

One block of 11,600 shares of Packard sold unchanged at 4⅝.

Canadian issues were mostly lower.

Montreal Lower

MONTREAL, May 9 (CP)—Issues turned irregularly lower towards the close today on the stock exchange and curb market. Trading continued slow.

Senior metals, carriers, senior oils and beverages dipped while miscellaneous industrials posted fractional gains.

Papers, utilities, steels and banks held gains and losses in balance.

Mines and western oils were irregular with price changes limited to a 10-cent range. Trading remained active. Siscoe, Emerald Glacier, New Pacific Coal and Sherritt-Gordon posted gains but Ascot, Labrador, Dominion Asbestos and East Sullivan were off. In the oils, Del Rio, Okalta and New Pacalta moved ahead while Calvan, Western Homestead and Harman slipped.

Vancouver Steady

VANCOUVER, May 9.—Noon close. Stocks weakened in slow trading throughout the early session at Vancouver exchange today. Support for market leaders appeared towards the close and prices firmed.

Pacific Pete traded at $13⅝; Nesbitt Labine $3.45; Canadian Atlantic $7.35.

Industrials stayed firm. MacMillan, Bloedel sold at $20.

London Soft

LONDON, May 9 (Reuters)—Trading was quiet on the stock exchange today and closed on a dull note.

Government securities drifted lower under light offerings to show losses of up to one-quarter of a point at the close.

In the foreign bond market Peruvians were a weak feature. The 6 per cent Nationals fell from their overnight level of 64¾ to 59 before recovering to 60½.

LONDON, May 9 (AP)—Stock closings: Babcock & Wilcox 66s 6d; Boots Pure Drug 20s 1½d; Canadian Pacific $66; Central Mining £1 13-16; Consolidated Gold Fields 47s 1½d; Courtaulds 36s 1½d; Hudson's Bay Co. 206s 10½d; Imperial Chemical 42s 1½d; Imperial Tobacco 83s 9d; Metal Box 47s 6d; Mexican Eagle 22s 7½d; Rand Mines 34s 4½d.

BONDS—British 2½% consols £60; British 3½% war loans £77 15-16; British fundings 4s 1960-1990 £97⅞.

Oils were dull. Shippings were quiet.

$ EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, May 9 (CP)—The Canadian dollar was down ⅛ of a cent at a premium of 1⅝ per cent in terms of United States funds in foreign exchange dealings today. The pound sterling was down 1/16 of a cent at $2.80½.

MONTREAL, May 9 (CP)—The United States dollar was at a discount of 1 9/32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today, EDT. Thursday's noon rate was $.98 15/32.

The pound sterling was $2.76⅝, against $2.76¾ Thursday.

Pacific Pete. New Gas Flow

Pacific Petroleums Ltd. reports its Fort St. John No. 4 well tested another 10-foot section and obtained a gas flow rated at 10,489,000 cu. ft. daily.

The well is located in the Peace River section of northeastern British Columbia.

So far the well has opened up about 20 feet of pay zone with gas flow from two tests totaling 16,641,000 cu. ft. daily. This indicates a prolific gas cap.

Prospects for finding oil underneath the gas cap are believed to be good.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG, May 9 (CP) — Prices of coarse grain futures were irregular and showed an easier tone in dull trading today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

The market reflected hesitation in U.S. grain and other commodity markets. Commercial demand was limited to a few shipping orders in oats and barley with some seaboard demand in flax.

Wheat Sales Record High

Canada boosted her wheat exports to 169,800,000 bushels in the first eight months of the current crop year, a 67 per cent gain over the 101,400,000 bushels in the same period a year ago, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The big gain in exports, with about one-third the total going to Britain, was sparked partly by shrinking world supplies at a time when Canada's own stocks were bountiful.

Total stocks by the four major wheat-exporting countries, Canada, the United States, Argentina and Australia, amounted to 818,000,000 bushels on April 1, down almost 19 per cent from the 1,006,000,000 bushels at the same time last year.

Canada was the only country with more wheat on her hands than a year ago. Her supplies on April 1 totaled 402,000,000 bushels, sharply higher than last year's 294,000,000 bushels.

Alaska Pine Shuts Plant at Woodfibre

VANCOUVER, May 9 (CP)—Alaska Pine and Cellulose Co. will close its plant at Woodfibre, 20 miles north of here, for the month of June, officials announced today.

Approximately 400 employees will be affected by the closure.

Company officials said the closure is due partly to the "soft" market for its products and also for repairs to the plant.

OPEN FOR INSPECTION

BRIDGE LESSON

by Oswald Jacoby

"Today's hand was played in the final round of a pair tournament," writes a Miami correspondent. "West opened the four of diamonds, and declarer decided to finesse. He played the queen of diamonds from dummy and dropped the nine from his hand.

"East was not deceived by this false card. He won the first trick with the king of diamonds and returned the suit for his partner to ruff. This set the slam contract.

"South said that he knew he was taking a risk when he finessed. In a total-point game he would have put up the ace of diamonds and would have ruffed out his spades. At the end he would give up one diamond trick.

"South added that West was an artful player who was fully capable of underleading the king of diamonds to give him a guess and a problem at trick one. South didn't want to make only 12 tricks if everybody else was going to make 13 tricks.

"How good is this reasoning? Would you say that South was theoretically correct, but unlucky? Or would you say that South had a very close decision to make? Or would you say that South was wrong and just got what was coming to him?

I think South was wrong, but I also think he was slightly unlucky. Every tournament player bears the scars of just such hands, so I sympathize with the poor fellow.

For the benefit of the non-tournament players, let me make it clear. There is no problem at rubber bridge. You go up with the ace of diamonds, take the ace of spades, ruff a spade, get back with the ace of clubs, ruff another spade, and so on. You ruff out all the spades, draw trumps, and eventually give up one diamond.

In a match-point tournament, you don't want to make 12 tricks if everybody else has bid the small slam and is going to make 13 tricks. In that case you will get no points even though you make your small slam contract.

The important point is, however, that South should feel very well pleased with his slam contract. The chances are that the slam will not be bid at about half of the tables.

South should expect a good score if he merely makes his slam, regardless of the extra trick. The general principle is that you play safe for your contract when you're in a very good spot. It isn't necessary to play every hand wide open.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

With TOMMIE WALTERS

With the summer hiatus fast approaching it's beginning to look like there will be quite an exodus of radio and TV talent to Great Britain this year. Jimmy Durante, et al, is there now. There is talk of Bergen heading that way at the close of the broadcast season before crossing to the continent, and Jack Benny has just signed for five weeks of personal appearances in the British Isles. He will take his singing star, Dennis Day with him on all dates, marking Dennis' British debut. They open at London's famed Palladium June 16 for three weeks and follow with a week in Glasgow and another in Manchester. When Benny made his first appearance at the Palladium in 1948 he broke all records for the theatre and repeated his triumph again at the same theatre in 1950. That year, he returned to England as the star of a Command Performance for the Royal family and received one of the greatest ovations of all time. This will be his first appearance in Glasgow and Manchester, and the experience should provide plenty of comedy material for his fall return.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Ford Theatre" leaves the air after tonight's performance and for the final presentation of the season, Alan Savage has adapted "the Browning Version" by Terrence Rattigan as the bill-of-fare. This many will recall as the heart-warming tale of a scholarly, shy teacher in a boys' school, of a pupil who broke through his armor of sharp remarks and cold expression to find the warm sentimental man within, and of his scheming wife who never really knew the man she married—and didn't particularly care.

☆ ☆ ☆

Written as a one-act play, it was first presented with another Rattigan one-acter, "Harlequinade," as an evening's entertainment in London in 1948. Two years ago Maurice Evans brought them to Broadway, and shortly afterwards "The Browning Version" was filmed with Michael Redgrave in the leading role. Savage has been trying to buy the performance rights of the play for three years. Broadcast time is 6 p.m. over CJOR and CJVI.

☆ ☆ ☆

There's a special broadcast of an entirely different nature, also scheduled at 6 tonight, to be aired over CBU and the Trans-Canada network. This will be a delayed commemoration broadcast from a Canadian Military Cemetery in Holland, out of Ottawa from the B.B.C.

☆ ☆ ☆

TONIGHT . . . "Mickey Lester's Varieties" at 6.30 on CBU. Boxing on "Cavalcade of Sport" at 7 on CJVI-CJOR-KJR, or "Mario Lanza Show" on KOMO. At 8.30 Dinah Shore stars on "Suspense" in the true-to-life story of "Frankie and Johnny" on CJVI and CJOR. "Baseball" at 9.05 on CKDA. "Hour of Charm" at 9.30 on CJVI.

Radio times and programs are furnished by stations and networks and are subject to last minute changes. The Times assumes no responsibility for inaccurate listings.

EVERYTHING 'DUCKY' AT PARK WITH MALLARDS BUSY HATCHING

Hundreds of young mallard ducks are attracting attention of the kiddie brigade at Beacon Hill Park these days.

Newly hatched, the fluffy ducks can be seen waddling and wading throughout the park.

While children watch the ducks their parents can enjoy the beauty of acres of blue camas, flowering cherries and wallflowers, all part of the park scene now.

Polyanthus and pansies, as well as many other blooms, make eye-catching displays, according to a parks department official today. Azalea beds are coming into full bloom.

In addition flowering crabapple trees in over 30 varieties are now in bloom both at the park nursery and on Park Boulevard.

Children Escape Serious Injuries in Car Mishaps

Two youngsters were struck by cars Thursday but neither was badly hurt.

Dennis King, 6, of 421 Dundas, was treated at Jubilee Hospital for a deep ankle cut after colliding with a car driven by Pearl D. McIllwaine, 3037 Carrol, at Wilson and Catherine Streets.

Police said the boy ran into the road while being chased by a dog.

Earlier, nine-year-old Gurdake C. Singh, 714 Powderly, was shaken up after he was struck by a car driven by Orval W. McGregor, 869 Vernon, at Langford and Russell.

ROCK SHOCKS MAKE QUAKES

The seismograph at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain will be working overtime for the next few months.

Construction crews have moved equipment up the mountain top to begin the job of providing a $100,000 addition to the observatory's office building. Before actual construction can start, a considerable amount of rock will have to be drilled and blasted.

The delicate seismograph is sure to be affected.

The new building is expected to be ready in about 10 months.

GARDEN CARAVAN

Visitors Still Find Pleasure On City Tour

The Garden Festival sponsored by the Victoria Horticultural Society continued today with conducted tours to nine private gardens in the Rockland Avenue and Esquimalt districts.

Over 100 visitors were taken to the gardens of Senator G. H. Barnard, 1462 Rockland Avenue, Government House, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Chant, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Morkill, N. Abkhazi, Dr. Thomas McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Pooley, Mrs. A. H. F. Stelck and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Stelck.

Saturday's tours will include two additional gardens which are not listed in the festival folder. These are the gardens of Rr H. Edgell, 3230 Beach Drive, and Mrs. W. C. Wells, 3023 Beach Drive. The Wells' home will be open in the morning only.

New Calendar Would Simplify Work of World

A streamline calendar for a streamline world is needed today. Victoria Rotary Club was told at luncheon Thursday in the Empress Hotel.

Edward F. Flynn of St. Paul, for many years a supporter of the World Calendar Movement, told Rotarians the present calendar is "unbalanced, irregular and unsettled," while adaption of the world calendar would establish a system arranged on an orderly and stable basis.

The principal of the world calendar is based on the solar seasonal year of 12 months and equal quarters. Each year begins on Sunday, Jan. 1; each working year would begin on Monday, Jan. 2, and each quarter-year would begin on a Sunday and end on a Sunday.

All months would have 26 working days each, and every year would have 52 weeks and a civil "world holiday," except in leap years, when there would be two world holidays.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENCE PRODUCTION

TENDER NO. G.10-1-204/6/3

SEALED TENDERS enclosed in envelopes marked accordingly to the above Tender No. and addressed to the Secretary, Department of Defence Production, (70 Lyon Street), Ottawa, Ontario, will be received until 4.00 P.M. (E.D.S.T.), on the 26th day of May, 1952, for Exterior Painting of Buildings at R.C.A.F. Station, Comox, B.C.

Tender Forms will be supplied by the Department of Defence Production upon request. No tenders will be considered unless made on such forms and all tenders shall be subject to the terms set forth or referred to in such forms.

The Specifications are on exhibition at the offices of the Department of Defence Production, Room B-246, No. 2 Temporary Building, (70 Lyon Street), Ottawa, Ontario, at which offices copies may be obtained upon deposit of $25.00 in the form of a certified cheque made payable to the Receiver General of Canada. This deposit will be remitted when such copies are returned in good condition. Specifications are also on display at Victoria Building Industries Exchange, P.O. Box 608, Victoria, B.C., and Building Contractors Association of Nanaimo, 2358 Kennedy Street, Nanaimo, B.C.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada payable to the Receiver General of Canada, or by bearer bonds, as specified in the form of tender, for ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the tender.

All deposits so made will be returned unless, in the case of the successful tenderer, he should decline to enter into a contract for the work when requested to do so or should fail after accepting the contract to complete the same satisfactorily.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

50 Painters Plan High-Speed Job On Scouts' Hall

Master Painters' Association will make its yearly contribution for public service Saturday at the Fairfield Scout Hall, Chester Street.

A crew of 50 will start painting the building at 10 a.m., and expects to have the job finished within an hour. Ordinarily the job would take four men four full working days to complete, painters estimate.

Two 18-year-old mainland youths were successful in B.C. Appeal Court Thursday in having six-month prison terms commuted to the one month's imprisonment they have already served.

Alex G. McLeod, of Vancouver, and John R. Sangala, of Burnaby, appealed the six-month sentence on grounds that it was a lot heavier than sentences imposed on others who had committed worse offences than they.

The two had been given the maximum term after pleading guilty to stealing a storage battery under the value of $25.

R.C.A.F. Criticized Over Airwoman's Death

TORONTO, May 9 (CP)—An air force nursing sister who gave a fatal dose of strychnine to a 25-year-old airwoman was exonerated by a coroner's jury Thursday night, but the R.C.A.F. was blamed for letting her handle dangerous drugs and medicines.

Nursing Sister Roberta McQuade told the five-man jury she thought she was administering some harmless medicine to L.A.W. Lottie Macura of Alonsa, Man., who died in Sunnybrook military hospital a few hours later.

The accident took place April 18 at the R.C.A.F.'s No. 1 supply depot in suburban Weston.

Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson repeatedly expressed the opinion during the 90-minute hearing that the nursing sister was not responsible but that the R.C.A.F. "system" of not having a permanent doctor on the station to treat patients and dispense medicine was at fault.

After deliberating 33 minutes, the jury found that the airwoman had met her death accidentally, as a result of the mistaken medicine, and attached no blame to nursing sister McQuade. They found the station's medical room "very carelessly operated."

SHOULD MARK POISONS

They recommended that a doctor be on hand at all R.C.A.F. stations at all times and that poisons be clearly marked and separated from medicines.

Wing-Cmdr. W. M. Murray, commanding officer of the station, told the jury the depot maintained the medical inspection room administered by the nursing sister and that a civilian physician, Dr. R. N. Killingbeck, attended morning sick parade. He admitted the nursing sister was neither a doctor nor a druggist.

"Your system is very bad," said Dr. Lawson. "The nurse wasn't qualified to administer drugs. She shouldn't be expected to."

Wing-Cmdr. Murray said he had no record of the R.C.A.F. board of enquiry findings. He said they were confidential.

Attacked by Faster Jets

SEOUL, Korea, May 9 (AP)—Twelve fast Red jets swept down on eight rail-wrecking Allied F-80 Shooting Stars today and one of the Reds was reported damaged in the ensuing fight.

The Fifth Air Force did not say how the comparatively slow F-80s fared. Allied losses, if any, are announced weekly.

The battle was fought near Kusong, 30 miles south of the Yalu River which separates Korea from Manchuria.

On the western front, Allied troops were back on a hill that changed hands eight times Thursday and today in a hotly-contested area northwest of Yonchon.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Best Treatment for Hemorrhoids, Removal

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Hemorrhoids, or piles, are enlarged veins which develop at or near the outlet of the rectum. They are likely to occur in clusters. At first, the enlargements appear and disappear. They may come on gradually or suddenly. A special strain, such as lifting, or a bad attack of constipation can bring sudden trouble.

Blockage of the flow of blood through the hemorrhoidal veins favors the development of piles. Many factors can contribute: childbirth, long-continued severe coughing, the muscular strain of heavy lifting or athletics, and constipation, are common.

Often the first symptom is the presence of blood on the outside of the stool without pain. Other common early signs are itching or slight pain, especially on straining. Bleeding is usually slight at first, but can get so bad that it can cause anemia.

Ulcers, or cracks in the skin or mucous membrane around the rectum often develop in a long-continued cases. Such complications are frequently painful.

At times clots can form inside the enlarged veins. These are likely to arise suddenly with severe pain. They are usually absorbed in a week or so though the clot can be shelled out by surgery.

SURGERY BEST

Mrs. O. asks about treatment with the electric needle. This method is favored by some, but in general, the best treatment for hemorrhoids is to cut them out. This involves an operation which can be performed with either local or general anesthesia. There has been much improvement in the methods of treatment and after-care in recent years, so that usually convalescense is more rapid and the pain is less severe following this operation than was formerly the case.

There is some danger that piles will come back after operation—that is, new ones develop—unless the causes which originally produced the condition are also corrected. There is much concern about whether piles, or hemorrhoids, lead to cancer. Fortunately, though hemorrhoids cause a lot of discomfort, they do not increase the chances of developing cancer.

College, Normal School Not to Merge This Year

Victoria College and Victoria Normal School will maintain their existing status for at least a year yet, an official of the department of education say.

It will be this long before a start is made on the new plan whereby teacher training will become an integral part of the University of British Columbia program. The change will result in centralized teacher training in B.C.

The official said the exact effect of the new plan on Victoria College and Victoria Normal School cannot be announced yet because policy matters still have to be settled.

Under the new system, the Vancouver Normal School will close.

However, the Victoria Normal School will continue to function but will be united with Victoria College which, in turn, is affiliated with U.B.C.

Integration of the normal schools into the U.B.C. program was first proposed by the late Dr. George Weir when he was education minister.

The program at U.B.C. will be adiministered by a special board, equally represented by the department of education and the university.

Teachers would be encouraged to take a full university degree, but would be permitted to drop out at the end of their first or second year to receive special certificates for teaching in elementary schools.

Grants now received by the two normal schools will go to the university, and probably will be increased.

Admiring Danes Welcome Carlsen

PARIS, May 9 (Reuters) — Capt. Kurt Carlsen of the Flying Enterprise was mobbed by an admiring crowd at a reception in his honor at the Danish embassy today. Carlsen is here on a brief visit from Rouen, where his new Flying Enterprise II is docked on its first trip to Europe.

Crowd of 200 Watches Scottish Cadet Corps at Inspection

Bay Street Armoury was colorful scene for some 200 onlookers Thursday night when the kilted Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) Cadet Corps took over.

Occasion was their annual inspection by the officer commanding — Lieut.-Col. Walter J. Mosedale, E.D., of the Scottish reserve battalion.

Commanded by Capt. Dudley Stephens, the youngsters put on a smart show which drew the praise of the colonel.

The color party composed of a colors-bearer and two guards—wore kilt, scarlet tunics and the picturesque feather bonnets, and looked very smart as they went through their paces. It was composed of C.Q.M.S. B. Roome, Sgt. Gary Frankham and Sgt. H. W. Johnson.

Sgt.-Maj. Ian Sutherland and his sergeants wore shell-white tunics with a red sash and the kilt. The other ranks wore kilt and blue tunics.

FOUNDER'S AWARD

Outstanding cadet of 1951—a coveted honor to all members—went to Sgt. Bruce Paxton. Mrs. S. J. McDonald, wife of the late captain who founded the corps, presented the sergeant with the handsome trophy. She also presented Platoon Sgt.-Maj. Patrick Barber with the McDonald miniature trophy for winning the previous "best cadet" honors.

One of the highlights of the evening was the intricate "Sixteensome Reel" executed by cadets and their pretty partners. They were trained by Miss Nancy Ferguson.

Music was supplied by pipers. The Scottish pipe band was featured throughout. They were in charge of Pipe-Major Andy Pollock.

WEAPONS DISPLAYED

The cadet anti-tank crew put on a show with a lot of snap to it.

Following this were displays of the Bren and Sten guns, the hand grenade, mortar bomb, map using, signals equipment, swift training rifle, rifle shooting and anti-tank gun for public inspection.

Lieut.-Col. Mosedale presented qualifying certificates merited at trades training camp at Vernon last year to the following:

Sgt. Raymond Bell, medical assistant; Sgt. Paxton, radio operator; Cpl. Daniel Henslowe, basic instructor, and Cpl. Terrance McLean, driver mechanic.

Shooting awards went to Sgt. Douglas Doidge, expert and D.C.R.A. badges, and first-class badges to Sgt. Paxton, Sgt. Frankham and Cdt. Brian Halliwell.

MUSICAL PRODIGY

Joseph Joachim, the great Hungarian violinist who died in 1907, was an accomplished performer at the age of 10.

R.C.A.F. Men Sent To Station in U.K.

NORTH LUFFENHAM, Rutland, England, May 9 (CP)—Twenty R.C.A.F. men, accompanied by nine wives and eight children, arrived by bus Thursday to swell the population at this R.C.A.F. fighter station. The latest arrivals landed at Southampton from Canada Wednesday aboard the liner Atlantic. The airmen include wing personnel and men for the air material base at nearby Langar.

Some Investors Say

"Investment Securities Review"

is Indispensable to them

. . . indispensable because it is a compact, accurate ready reference to prices and income yields from all important securities—Canadian Government, Municipal and Corporation Bonds, as well as Industrial Preferred and Common Stocks and Mining and Oil Companies' shares.

Each issue also contains a review of the business of an outstanding Canadian Corporation. The current issue deals with Consolidated Paper Corporation Limited, one of the largest producers of newsprint in Canada. This should be of interest to all holders of newsprint companies' shares in general and to Consolidated Paper Corporation shareholders in particular. Write for a copy now.

Announcing Canadian National's NEW simplified Interline Ticket

We've done something about Interline tickets! They were often so long as to create the impression they were sold by the yard . . . and they were bulky and awkward to handle in proportion to their length.

But today, on Canadian National, that's a thing of the past. For your Interline journey now you receive a compact ticket in convenient book form, wallet size, in its own attractive cover. The new coupons or tickets are pages in this handy book, and when they are all collected you retain the cover on which is a complete record of your route and the fare paid.

Canadian National's new Interline ticket was adopted for your convenience. We hope it adds to the pleasure of your travels.

DeSoto FIREDOME 8

NEW IN SO MANY WAYS..

. . . IN POWER, PICKUP AND PERFORMANCE

You'll thrill to the surging power of the mighty new 160 h.p. FireDome engine . . . it's of the new-design V-8 type which has won acclaim and set performance and economy records in one short year. Its flashing get-away and its smooth, efficient performance in all speed ranges are breathtaking.

With the addition of Fluid-Torque Drive accelerating ability is more than doubled and the result is truly sensational.*

. . . IN EFFICIENCY AND DURABILITY

The key to FireDome 8 efficiency is a radically different combustion chamber – shaped like a dome. This unique design enables the fuel to burn uniformly and completely. There is less surface through which heat energy can be lost . . . more of the energy is converted into power. No competitive engine produces as much power per cubic inch displacement as the FireDome 8!

Because this powerful DeSoto FireDome V-8 engine is seldom pressed to capacity – it does not have to work so hard as ordinary engines. Therefore, it does not wear as fast.

. . . IN STYLE, COMFORT AND SAFETY

The DeSoto FireDome 8 combines distinctive styling, functional body design, co-ordinated springing, the amazing new Oriflow shock absorbers and DeSoto's famous "Tip-Toe" shift to give you the smoothest, safest ride you've ever experienced.

For the ultimate in driving comfort, the new DeSoto FireDome 8 is available with Power Steering which does 88% of the work of steering for you . . . makes parking child's play . . . increases driver control . . . reduces driver fatigue to a minimum.* DeSoto Power Brakes are super-safe; they give surer, easier, safer braking . . . and they require considerably less pedal pressure.*

Arrange now, with your Dodge-DeSoto dealer, for a demonstration ride.

Aged Indian Dies After Being Found on Highway

Police forces of the entire Island are hunting a hit-and-run driver believed responsible for the death of a 70-year-old Indian near Koksilah Thursday night.

The search has been on since Edward August was found lying on the Island Highway at midnight.

His right leg was mangled and he suffered internal injuries.

At 2 p.m. today police had no word of progress on the hunt.

The victim was dead on arrival at King's Daughters' hospital in Duncan.

GAS SLASHED 35 PER CENT FOR AIRCRAFT

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP).—All deliveries of aviation gasoline in Canada to users have been slashed by 35 per cent because of the oil-industry strike in the United States, Trade Minister Howe announced today.

Mr. Howe told the Commons deliveries are being cut—effective immediately—to 65 per cent of those in April.

He said that, with this conservation measure, Canada's aviation industry should be able to carry on "indefinitely" with curtailed schedules of service.

ALL GRADES

Under an order-in-council passed today, Mr. Howe disclosed, all grades of aviation gasoline have been declared "essential" and subject to control under the Defence Production Act.

However, it was not expected at this time that supplies of other petroleum products for Canadian consumers would be seriously affected.

Mr. Howe said the petroleum division of the defense production department will be prepared to consider relation of the 65-per-cent delivery rule in specific cases of extreme hardship.

Juin to Head European Army

Draft of Treaty Initialled by Envoys; Pitfalls Still Ahead

PARIS, May 9 (AP).—Six west European countries tonight initialled the draft of a treaty to create a one-uniform European army.

The army of about 1,300,000 men will be integrated into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It will be headed by Marshal Alfonse Juin of France in his role as commander of the ground forces of N.A.T.O.'s central European sector.

Today's ceremony, which took place in the French Foreign Office, capped 15 months of work by experts who have been ironing out the complex details of pooling the military resources of the six countries into a common European defense community.

The draft will be handed to the foreign ministers of the six member countries — France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — for final study. It is expected to be signed later this month. After that it still faces the hurdle of parliamentary approval in each country.

OBSTACLES SEEN

High hurdles still will face the plan after that, before the projected one-uniform army of some 40 divisions can take the field under the military commander for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. These include:

1. Ratification by parliaments of the six nations. Much trouble is expected in West Germany, which wants to get more concessions for its troops, and in France, where many oppose putting any Germans in uniform.

2. Signing and ratification of the peace contract between West Germany and Britain, the United States and France. Recent German demands for more concessions have indicated this may be a long way off. Until the peace contract is ratified, the army treaty under its own terms can not take effect.

Military experts anticipate a year of training before German troops can make any effective contribution to western defense. Since the E.D.C. treaty provides these Germans can not be recruited and armed until the defense community itself is in operation—fully ratified and running—even optimistic estimates do not see the international army as a going concern before mid-1954.

LIBERALS HIT TORY CHARGE BOSS TO QUIT

'Bitterness' Seen In Statement

Victoria Liberals today scoffed at reports the Premier Byron Johnson intends to resign after the June 12 election.

Alan J. McDonell, Progressive Conservative candidate in Vancouver Centre, told a Grand Forks meeting the Premier is just "a nominal figurehead who is going to stay around until the vote is known and then he will get out."

In New Westminster Bill Rea, election manager for the Premier, said today Premier Johnson "has no intention of resigning after the election."

"The premier has the full support of the party members and Liberal candidates," said Mr. Rea in commenting on the Grand Forks report.

Mrs. J. G. Gates, president of the B.C. Liberal Association, termed the statement "nonsense."

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Liberal candidate in the city, said she has never heard of it.

'DOWNRIGHT CHEEK'

Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, also a Liberal candidate here, said Mr. McDonell's assertion was "downright cheek."

"I know the Premier will not quit, no matter what might happen in the election," he said.

"That chap, McDonell, is one of the most bitter members of the Conservative party, and he is showing his bitterness here."

G. A. A. Hebden, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, and a vice-president of the B.C. body, said:

"As far as I know it's groundless."

Other Liberals termed Mr. McDonell's statement "wishful thinking," a "red-herring," "ridiculous," and "unheard of."

'REPUDIATED'

McDonell, at Grand Forks, said Johnson will resign "no matter what the result of the June 12 election is."

He claimed the premier has not the support of more than seven Liberals in the Legislature.

Almost all the Liberals in the last Legislature, he said, had repudiated the premier and owed their allegiance to "another" in the Liberal party.

McDonell, who flew to Grand Forks late Thursday as a replacement for his party leader Herbert Anscomb, noted that the province intends to spend $182,000,000 next year.

"That's certainly big business, and for business of that sort we need a first-class general manager," he said.

Gold in Them Thar Boards

Pretty Helen Reed prospects a woodpile believed to contain $20,000 worth of gold. It's the flooring torn up from a Fort Madison, Ia., pen company's gold nib department. Deciding to move after 32 years of grinding 14-carat gold pen points, the company ordered the boards burned and the gold dust refined from the ashes.

FINAL BULLETINS

Carpenters, Painters Take Strike Vote

VANCOUVER, May 9 (CP)—Two large building trades—carpenters and painters—will conduct government supervised strike votes during the last week of this month.

It is expected that carpenters at New Westminster, Port Alberni, Courtenay, Powell River and Campbell River will take strike votes about the same time.

Vancouver carpenters in dispute with General Contractors' Association will vote May 26 and the painters' strike vote will be taken May 29, union officials announced today.

B.C. Man Faces Second Murder Trial

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., May 9 (CP)—A Port Simpson, B.C., fisherman, on trial for the second time for the murder of his common-law wife, today denied any knowledge of the contents of a statement he allegedly gave police after his arrest.

The accused, Harold Ryan, was sentenced to be hanged Dec. 2 after being found guilty of beating his wife, Lorraie Tait, and throwing her overboard from his fishing vessel.

Double at Golden Gate Pays $1,230

ALBANY, Calif., May 9 (AP)—The daily double—U-Pickem to Picnicker—paid $1,230.30 at Golden Gate Fields today.

Jockey M. Peterson rode U-Pickem to win the first race. The $2 mutuels paid $8.40, $4.50 and $4.00.

In the second race, Jockey W. Marsh booted Picnicker home first at the fancy odds of $227.70, $64.60 and $13.50.

New Zealand, Britain Involved in Compact

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP)—The United Kingdom has agreed to accept Canadian surplus meat on a barter basis, it was learned today.

The swap involves New Zealand exports.

Canada will ship surplus meat to Britain. Britain will hand over to Canada an equal amount of meat purchased from New Zeland.

Canada will sell the New Zealand meat in the United States market.

An announcement on this unique three-way swap will be made shortly in Ottawa, London and Auckland.

The tripartite agreement has been reached in an attempt to overcome the American embargo on Canadian livestock and meats imposed by the U.S. as a result of the foot-and-mouth disease outbreak in south Saskatchewan.

The swap will include both beef and pork. Because of a lack of dollars, Britain has obtained no beef from Canada since 1948 and no pork since 1950.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner gave a hint of the agreement Thursday when he told the Commons that arrangements which he thinks will "turn out to be satisfactory" were being made for the disposal of meat surpluses in Canada.

The agreement involves no exchange of dollars for sterling. Canada simply will exchange Canadian meat for New Zealand meat with Britain and sell this to the U.S.

The price she will get for her meat will, of course, depend on the price the U.S. is willing to pay for imports.

Alberta Cattle Cleared For Shipment to Coast

EDMONTON, May 9 (CP)—Agreement was reported reached today to allow shipment of cattle to British Columbia from special quarantine pens at the Calgary, Edmonton and Lethbridge stockyards.

The negotiations were conducted by telephone by officials at Ottawa, Victoria, Calgary and Edmonton.

The original ruling was that cattle shipped to B.C. must come direct from approved feedlots. That eliminated the stockyards, the normal channel. The bans were imposed because of the new outbreaks of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan.

An earlier easement of the ban had allowed the stockyards to clear their pens of heavy cattle.

The second easement means that producers now may truck livestock to the stockyards as usual. At the yards the stock will be placed in the special quarantine pens and inspected for health certificates needed for shipment to B.C. All animals shipped to the coast province will be for immediate slaughter.

Vets Ask Increased Allowances

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP).—The Canadian Legion, spokesman for some 300,000 war veterans, appealed to the government today to boost proposed increases in war veterans' allowances by $10 a month for a single person and $30 a month for a married recipient.

Capt. Alfred Watts of Vancouver, Legion president, told the Commons veterans' committee that Legion branches feel, the government's proposals "are not great enough."

Van Fleet Ready to Use Force at Koje

SEOUL, Korea, May 9 (AP).—Gen. James van Fleet said tonight he will use force if necessary to rescue Brig.-Gen. Francis Dodd from Communist prisoners of war who snatched the general at Koje Island prison camp.

Van Fleet said he would not give in to the Reds' "unreasonable" demands for special privileges before they release the prison-camp commander.

The United States Eighth Army commander made his statement after a flying trip to rebellious Koje, off the southern tip of Korea.

He was under orders from Gen. Matthew Ridgway, supreme Allied comander, "to use force if necessary" to free Dodd without delay.

SLAYER MEETS DEATH UNREPENTANT

Canadian Confessed 3 Toronto Murders; Executed in San Quentin

SAN QUENTIN, May 9 (AP).—A sullen killer, Stanley Buckowski, 27, was executed at San Quentin prison today for the pistol-slaying of an aged woman during a hold-up.

While in prison, he also confessed to the gun-slaying of three persons in Toronto.

Buckowski was strapped into the death chamber chair and the lethal gas fumes started at 10.03 a.m., PDT. Ten minutes later prison doctors pronounced him dead.

Before he went to the gas chamber, Buckowski broke his silence only to snarl at those who offered him help in his last hours.

"You dog, what do you want now?" was the greeting Warden Harley O. Teets said he got on visiting Buckowski's death-row cell.

Teets said he wanted to inform the sallow-faced Canadian that a prison chaplain would visit him.

"I want no part of him," Buckowski said.

"But remember, Stan, you're a Catholic. You should talk to Father (Daniel) McAlister," Teets urged.

"He's just plain ornery," Teets said, reporting that prison guards had to force Buckowski to take a bath.

Buckowski, who was born in Winnipeg and grew up in Toronto, was sentenced to death for murdering an 82-year-old woman who surprised him while he was robbing her home in Los Angeles, February, 1950.

Buckowski shot and killed Mrs. Helen Edmunds after he brushed off his 25-year-old wife, Jean, and told her to "take a walk around the block." Both were tried for the murder. He was convicted and sentenced to death Dec. 4, 1950. She was acquitted.

A policewoman testified at the trial that Mrs. Buckowski told her after their arrest: "I knew my husband was going to break into the house. When he came out he told me he had to shoot a man. I didn't know until later it was an old woman who was killed."

The court set the date of execution for Nov. 16, 1951. But a month before Buckowski won a temporary stay of execution pending an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States on the ground that a judicial error had been committed at his trial.

While his appeal was up before the high tribunal Buckowski confessed to the Toronto murders of Alfred Layng and Robert and Gloria McKay in 1949. The three murders had remained unsolved for two years.

He made his confession to prison authorities and Ontario police and Crown Attorney William Gibson who made a special trip to California.

He said he confessed to the Toronto killings because he didn't want somebody else to get blamed.

After the triple murder Buckowski fled to the United States. He robbed homes—picking on the rich-looking ones — in several states and finally ended up in California where the law caught up with him for the last time.

On Feb. 28 the Supreme Court refused to consider his appeal and execution of the death sentence was set for today.

Prison officials who studied Buckowski during his nearly 17 months in the death row described him as an "unhappy, dangerous" man who would kill anybody who got in his way.

The world was "peopled by punks," he told them, and robbery was the only "easy way to make a living."

One of his few relaxations during his death-house stay was playing the clarinet.

Buckowski refused 11th-hour attempts by his lawyer to obtain a stay of execution.
